PANDIT JAWAHARLAL NEHRU ARRESTED

Tea Table Surprise At Anand Bhavan

I've Been Looking Out For You, Says Pt. To Officer

TOUCHING SCENE AT SICK BED

ALLAHABAD, Feb. 12.

Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru was arrested this evening.

The Pandit was having tea with Babu Purshotamdas Tandon and other friends at Anand Bhawan wher Rai Saheb Peary Shanker, City Deputy Superintendent of Police, arrived. Pandit Jawaharlal greeted him smilingly and said:—

"I have been looking out for you for some days."

The Pundit was given a few minutes to prepare himself. These minutes were the most trying ones for him. His mother, Mrs. Sarup Rani Nehru, was lying ill in bed and when he went to take leave of her she clasped her son in tearful silence. His leave taking of Mrs. Kamala Nehru was a similar ordeal.

TAKEN TO NAINI.

Meanwhile friends had assembled to bid goodbye. He spoke a few words of farewell to them and, accompanied by Babu Purshotamdas Tandon, entered the police car which moved off quickly It is believed that the Pundit has been taken to the Naini Jail.

The Pundit returned from Bihar yesterday after a tour of the earthquake area lasting ten days and has been busy writing a report.

This is the seventh occasion that the Pundit is arrested, and it is calculated that he has already spent about 5½ years in jail.

It is believed that his present arrest is in connection with his recent speeches.—A. P.

ONLY MIRACLE CAN SAVE INDIA FROM DEFEAT

All Eyes Turned To Naidu And Amarnath

(From Our Correspondent)

MADRAS, Feb. 12.

A brilliant century by Walters vice-Captain of England's Eleven was the feature of the third day's play in the final Test Match. If India had cut a sorry figure in her batting yesterday, she looked positiviely ragged in the field to-day, althouyh her individual fielders stood up gamely to the leather-hunting which England's forcing batsmen set them to. It was India's bowling, however, which was found wanting, and this happened because Amarsingh (who returned an analysis of 7 for 86 runs on the first day) got only one wicket in 23 overs.

Again Amarnath came to Nayudu's rescue because, when Nazir Ali, after taking four wickets for 66 runs, was proving costly, Nayudu had to return to Amarnath to keep down the runs. The worth of the Kapurthala player's bowling ability will be seen from the fact that, although altogether 7 bowlers bowled, only two had any maiden overs and of these Amarnath had three in 11 overs and Amarsingh 6 in 23 overs. In 23 overs Nazir Ali had not a single maiden over. The latter was, however, not to have got Langridge's wicket through Amarsingh missing an easy catch at silly midon.

Both Mustaq Ali and C. S. Nayudu failed as bowlers, the former in both the innings taking one wicket for 80 runs and the latter no wicket for 70 runs. But the greatest disappointment as bowler was C. K. Nayudu himself because in both tests hitherto he had done well in that capacity, but in England's two innings in this match he bowled 20 overs altogether for 70 runs without taking a wicket and could only point to one maiden in 20 overs.

Although special pains had been taken to select the strongest Indian side for the Madras Test, it had to be said with regret that never before has India been seen in such a sad plight as yesterday and to-day. After the players had returned to the pavilion at the close of play yesterday, it was learnt that Dilawar Hussain had missed two chances, one of them a chance given very early in his innings by Bakewell who later went on to make 85 runs. To-day Dilawar missed an easy stumping chance. On the whole Dilawar is nowhere near Navle's class as "keeper" and the omission of Navle from the Test Team was a great mistake. Dilawar could have been played for his batting alone and he could have fielded at mid-off or gully.

GREATEST NEED

But the greatest need which was felt was that of a forcing batsman who could have knocked Verity off his length when he was tying up the batsman. What Amarsingh did to-day was an object lesson. He scored 18 in 6 minutes, hitting 4, 2, 2, 4, and 4 in five strokes in 5 minutes against the same bowlers who were proving so difficult to others.

MIRACLE ALONE CAN SAVE DEFEAT.

Nothing but a miraculous recovery can now save India from defeat. Victory is out of question, because the margin of runs is 386 and the time 300 minutes. Practically the same side failed to collect 222 runs in 190 minutes at Secunderabad on a matting wicket with only Verity and Townsend to face without Clark in the team. The position now, therefore, is much more difficult, but it provided C. K. Naidu and Amarnath to draw out their best. It is on these two that India's hopes of making a draw now rest and all success to their arms to-morrow It is hoped that Naoomal will be in a fit condition to bat to-morrow.

MARTIAL LAW PROCLAIMED IN VIENNA

Socialist Rising Against Fascism

VIENNA, Feb. 12.

Martial Law has been proclaimed here and also in Linz as a result of the disturbances wherein 15 are reported to have been killed and at least 60 injured in Linz following the general strike declared to-day by the Socialists.

Vienna is quiet, but the public buildings are heavily guarded by police carrying rifles.

POLICE FOILED

The Socialists in Linz machinegunned and seized the Central Police Station, but the police Heimwehr recaptured it after a hard fight. The police being foiled in the attempt to search the Socialist Headquarters, summoned the aid of troops who machinegunned the Socialist stronghold which replied with handgrenades. The battle developed in the Pestalozzi Square.

CLASHES IN VIENNA

Meanwhile clashes occurred in Vienna where Socialist leaders issued a proclamation denouncing Fascism. Trams are not running and gas and electricity have been cut off since noon.

FIRING ON SOCIALISTS

Latest reports from Berlin show that the artillery in Linz is firing on Socialists on the bank of the Danube and shops are closed. Socialists are pouring into the town.

CURFEW ORDER

Curfew order has been proclaimed in Upper Austria. It is stated that The Government is contemplating Martial Law throughout Austria. The Government has issued an appeal to the nation particularly to the workers, urging calm and threatening the severest penalties for acts of violence against the regime.

The Government asserts that the Socialists planned the 'coup d' etat.'—Reuter.

VIENNA, Feb. 12.

Government has occupied Rathaus, the Socialist Headquarters here and has also directed the search of party headquarters in all the principal cities for arms. All main buildings are occupied by troops and a number of prominent Socialists have been arrested. These measures followed a meeting of the Cabinet presided over by Dr. Dollfuss. The city presents the appearance of an armed camp Troops with fixed bayonets are patrolling the streets, many of which are fenced with barbed wire. Machineguns are mounted outsde the police headquarters. A large number of Socialist leaders in the factories have been arrested and search made of Socialist Deputies. Electricity service in Vienna has been restored, but trams and buses have withdrawn. No news is available from Linz but it is understood that fighting is continuing at the dusk.—Reuter's Special.

INDIAN DEFENCE

British Contribution To Be Included In India Office Estimate

HOARE'S STATEMENT

Secretary Of State On Punjab Conspiracy Trial

(SPECIAL CABLE)

LONDON, Feb. 12.

The question of expediting the criminal proceedings is at present engaging the attention of the Government of India, declared Sir Samuel Hoare in the House of Commons replying to Mr. Bernays who drew attention to the length of the Punjab Conspiracy Trial.

Sir Samuel Hoare informed Sir Alfred Knox that the estimate for British Government's contribution to Indian defence would be included in the India Office votes to be presented to the Commons shortly.

'QUAKE QUESTIONS IN COMMONS

LONDON, Feb. 12.

In the House of Comons Sir Samuel Hoare replying to Sir Alfred Knox said that 6,582 lives had been lost in the earthquake in British India and that at least five crores of rupees would be required for relief work and reparation of material damage. He was not yet in a pasition to say how the necessary expenditure by Government will be financed. There was no reason to anticipate that the financial proposals in the WhitePaper would require modification on this account.

Sir Alfred Knox said: "Surely this new call on the Government of India will necessitate some delay in the introduction of reforms"

Sir Samuel Hoare replied he saw no reason why the calamity great as it was, should make a difference.—Reuter.

ROUTE MARCH.

(SPECIAL CABLE).

LONDON, Febry. 12.

In the House of Commons, Mr. David Grenfell asked again questions regarding attendance at military parades and ceremonials.

Sir Samuel Hoare replied that with the object of ensuring when the regiment was on march that, its progress might be made an occasion of some formality and ceremony, the Bengal Troops Manual of 1914 provided for the issue of invitations to local gentlemen to attend the arrival of troops. In the instance referred to by Mr. Grenfell the notices sent out by the Sub-Divisional Officer, Contai seemed to have been expressed more peremptorily than contemplated by the Manual. No force, however, was used to compel attendance, nor was anyone apprehended for failure to attend.

AND STILL IT COMES!

MUZAFFARPORE, Feb. 12.

As a sequel of this morning's tremor 5 men clearing debris at Kalyan Mohalla, Muzaffarpur, were buried themselves by a damaged wall. 3 were extricated with grievous injury while 2 died instantaneously.—United Press.

ATTACK ON SOCIALIST HEADQUARTERS

LINZ, Feb. 12.

Two of the police were killed and 20 injured when the authorities launched a successful attack against the Schiffer Hotel, the Socialists' Headquarters. Socialists are now entrenched in the beautiful East School, which the artillery is now bombarding.—Reuter.

AHMEDABAD ARREST.

AHMEDABAD, Feb. 12.

Hariprasad Desai, an alleged Communist, was arrested to-day at the Ahmedabad Railway station, as he was coming from Broach.

It appears that the police searched his luggage and seized several copies of an unauthorised monthly magazine known as "Communist" said to be the organ of the Hindustan Communist Party.

Desai has been released on bail and will be prosecuted under Section 18 (1) Special Emergency Press Act.—A. P.

Madras, February 11.—Enquiries at the Government House regarding the health of the Governor and Lady Beatrix Stanley show that both are making very good progress.—A.P.

PARALYSIS IN PARIS

General Strike Success Makes Busy Capital Lifeless

360 ARRESTS

Socialists And Communists Get Up Huge Demonstration

PARIS, Feb. 12.

The Ministry of the Interior announced that the morning passed off quietly and no grave incidents were reported; but the bus services were completely suspended in the afternoon.

Three hundred and sixty persons have been arrested for interference with the workers.

The Mobile Guards and the police are wearing steel helmets at present at Course de Vincennes where the Socialists and Communists staged a huge demonstration. Socialist Guards in dark uniforms and berets marshalled with files of workers, and the main body began to move towards the city, but found the roads blocked by the police, whereupon they retreated singing.—Reuter.

General Strike In Paris Passes Off Normally

PARIS, Feb. 12.

Although the general strike nominally began at midnight all was quiet without any incidents anywhere.

Demonstration of workers througout the country last evening passed off without any disorder except at Boulogne where clashes followed demonstrators attempt to rescue 11 communists were arrested by police but they were later released.—Reuter's Special

PARIS PARALYSED

PARIS, Feb. 12.

The General Strike resulted in a semi-paralysis of life in the capital, where few buses and taxis were running and no postaa deliveries were made Trains, however, were running normally, while the underground railway maintained a restricted service. with the exception of "Action Francaise," no newspapers were published this morning. No untoward incidents were reported up to midday, except stoning at a tramcar by the strikers Postal transport services were completely at standstill in Lille and also Marseilles, where 60,000 workers paraded the streets in a procession. Marseilles early to-day was startled by a dynamite explosion in the porch of a suburban church. The strike was only partial in the mining districts in the north. Attempts at railway sabotage occurred at Bruay-sur-l' Escaut.—Reuter's Special.

ALLEGED HARASSMENT OF PEASANTS

Pay Rent And Tax Or Forfeit What You Have

REPORTS FROM BEHAR

MUZAFFARPORE, Feb. 12.

Reports are pouring into the Local Branch of the Central Relief Committee's office from the interior about alleged harassments of afflicted peasants for payment of Chaukidari tax and malguzari rents due to the landlords from the villagers under Dharampur police station in Muzaffarpore sub-division.

It is reported that the villagers have been notified by beat of drums that failing immediate payments of choukidari tax for 1933 their moveable properties would be auctioned.

A representative conference of peasants in Sitamarhi sub-division was held on Saturday last to protest against these activities on the part of the Government and landlords.

It may be recalled that some days back Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru after returning from a visit to Sitamarhi sub-division made similar allegations in the course of a press statement.—United Press.

Jhansi, Feb. 7.—It is understood that a telegram has been sent to the Viceroy from Jhansi-Cantonment Sanatanists expressing great dissatisfaction with the Government for not maintaining any adequate means to realise the mass opinion on the Temple-Entry Bill.

Behar Fund Concessions

DECISION NOT TO DISCRIMINATE

Reconstruction Loan Plans

(From Our Special Correspondent)

NEW DELHI, Feb. 12.

There is considerable satisfaction among the members of the Assembly at the report that the Government of India has taken immediate steps to extend postal money order concession to the Babu Rajendra Prasad and the Calcutta Mayor's Funds. The credit for this goes to Mr. B. Das, Chief Whip of the Democratic Party who, immediately on hearing of the original decision, tabled a short notice question to find out why this privilege was confined to the Viceroy's Fund alone.

IMPERIAL BANK'S CO-OPERATION.

Luckily for Government some days intervened since the Assembly rose and they have, in the meantime, taken the correct decision with the result that the necessity does not arise for Mr. Das to pursue his question when the Assembly meets to-morrow, and even if it is put Government would be able to show that it has acted with imagination in the matter. This, combined with the action taken by Sir George Schuster to see that the Imperial Bank remits money free of commission charges to all funds has created the confidence in political quarters about the manner in which Government wishes to encourage all funds to co-operate in the common purpose.

Mr. Syed Husain Imam, who suddenly left Patna to urge the Behar Government not to impose the arbitrary limit of Rs. 5,000 on people who wish to receive loan for building, has come back disappointed and is coaching the members of the Assembly for ventilating the grievance of the middle classes on Wednesday when the Behar issue will be debated. Sir George Schuster is completing his plans regarding a loan to Behar and will make this a part of the ways and means programme of the Central Budget and put it on a scientific basis so that all parts of India might bear some burden in relieving the distress of the Behar people.

GOVT. RETRIEVES BLUNDER

Communique On Fund Remittances For Relief

NEW DELHI, Feb. 12.

A Communique states that subscriptions by ordinary, postal money orders to the Viceroy's Earthquake Relief Fund and to two other most important relief funds, namely, the Babu Rajendra Prasad's Fund and the Mayor of Calcutta's Fund, both of which are being administered in close co-operation with the Government of Bihar and Orissa, will be transmitted by the Indian Posts and Telegraphs Department free of charge for commission. The name of the Fund for which remittance is intended should be written prominently in the margin of the Money Order form at the side of the address.—A. P.

What The Aga Khan Said

NEW DELHI, Feb. 10.

In the course of an Associated Press interview, dated Feb. 7, the Agha Khan was reported to have said:—

"As one having a vast experience of representative institutions in almost all parts of the world, His Highness felt sure that communalism was nothing short of an anachronism in a democratic country, its existence being wholly outrageous to the very spirit of democracy."

His Highness says that, he did not use these words. What he said was:—

"Experience and practide of parliamentary Government will show that communal Government was an impossibility and that, the working of reforms would lead to political parties being formed and the adjustment of communal claims with mutual consent and compromise."

INDIAN COMMUNITY DIVIDED IN SOUTH AFRICA

Anti-Indian Agitation Growing

KUNWAR SIR MAHARAJ SINGH'S POLICY CRITICISED

GENERAL HERTZOG AND AFRICANDERS

(From Our Special Correspondent.)

JOHANNESBURG, Feb. 10.

There appear to be no prospects of reconciliation of two rival organisations in the country, the South African Indian Congress and the Colonial born and Settlers' Association. Both the parties are at loggerheads and keen to find each other's faults. The birth of the latter body, which also includes veteran workers of the Indian community is, as is well-known by now due to the difference of opinion on the question of co-operation with the Indian Colonization Inquiry Commission. The Agent of the Government of India, it appears, is desirous of seeing unity among the so far no active steps are taken in that direction. The leaders of the Colonial-born and Settlers' Association are enraged at the idea of the Agent co-operating with those organisations who follow his policy and ignore other bodies notwithstanding they may have a powerful influence and a large following.

The speakers at the Provincial Conference of the Natal Colonial-born and Settlers' Association, which was held at Durban recently, did not mince matters when they discussed the problems affecting the interests of the Indian community. The Agent was hotly attacked and speaker after speaker referred to the common complaint that "the present Agent is not serving the best interests of the community."

Mr. Manilal Gandhi, Mahatma's son and editor of "Indian Opinion" contended that they were beginning to lose their manhood with the advent of the Agency in South Africa. They had become so utterly helpless that they could not do anything without the help of "Sirkar Ma Bap."

Mr. A. Christopher the president, spoke of the disadvantages the Indians had to suffer owing to the presence of the Agent in the country. He said:

"Because of the presence of the Agent, you cannot educate public opinion in India, neither can you protest against any anti-Indian legislation. Take for instance, the Transvaal Asiatic Land Tenure Act. We told the Government of India Delegation in Capetown in clear terms that we did not want the rights of those who had properties to be protected, but we wanted a common right for all to enjoy. We however, now find that the Agent is helping in the enforcement of the Act notwithstanding the fact that the community with one voice had condemned it, and we are unable to do nothing because of the presence of the Agent.

A SMOKE-SCREEN OF TEA PARTIES CAN.

"A smoke screen of tea parties is raised to show to the outside world what a great change there is in the atmosphere, but how many Europeans have invited Indian to similar tea parties?

"The present Agent belongs to ruling class of India and has been a Government official all his life. Government men have no feeling. They are not dependent upon the public. The present Agent is not large-hearted enough. There is now a rumour that a title is to be conferred on the supporter of the Congress and the Agent. If this method is to be introduced in this country it is going to destroy us."

The following resolution was passed with an overwhelming majority:

"That this conference is strongly of the opinion that the present Agent of the Government of India is not working in the best interests of the Indian community as a whole: for in matters vitally affecting our people he is totally ignoring the wishes and aspirations of the majority thus creating a division in the community and urges that the Indian Government and the people of India should take cognizance of the position created in the Indian community and take such steps as would prevent the Agent from taking sides with and serving a small minority against the majority."

The opponents of the resolution were out for the demand of the recall of the Agent.

ANTI INDIAN AGITATION IN TRANSVAAL.

Although the Agent for India, Kunwar Sir Maharaj Singh, has either meekly followed the policy of betrayal of the Government of India or been compelled to do so, there is no doubt about the fact that he and his wife are trying their best to arouse interest among the Europeans towards the misery of the South African Indian in general. Kunwarani Lady Maharaj Singh created an unprecedented impression by her outspoken remarks on the wretched condition of the Benoni Location where the Indians and the Natives reside. Her remarks were even referred to with sympathy by not only public men, police and the missionary, but also by the Magistrate in the Court. The leading English dailies wrote editorials and she was thanked for arousing fresh interest. But an unwarranted and filthy attack came from a weekly called "The Ringhals" which wrote:

"... An Indian woman has no right to complain about what is happening in a whiteman's country. We feel that she is presuming on our courtes in permitting her to reside in their midst. A couple of Benoni Town Councillors appear to be somewhat perturbed by this Indian woman's remarks. We would like to point out to these Councillors that the slums are largely of the "Coolies' own making. With their low standard of living, and their callous rack-renting methods, the coolies, if they were given half a chance, would turn Buckingham Palace into a Location.'"

The same paper wrote a week ago that they did not want coolies and that the Minister of Interior should take steps to prohibit the landing of the Indian Aiyman, Man Mohan Singh.

The Europeans in the country are not attacking the Indian in the above strain, but their municipalities are steadily banning Indian trade under the extraordinary powers granted to them under the Licensing Control Ordinance. The Lichtenburg Town Council refused six Indian licenses, because the applicants had not the white sken on them.

MALANITES ON WARPATH.

The Union Parliament will meet in session next week, and the work of the Coalition Government will be put to severe test. There will be little opposition during the discussion of the Bills unless Dr. Malan forces the issue and breaks the connection with the Hertzogites. At a conference of Free State Malanites, General Hertzog was the target of stroug criticism. Strong exception was taken to Gen. Hertzog's attitude towards the Malanites who were 100 per cent. nationalists and siding with the enemies of Africanderdom, the Smuts Party. The motive being the opposition o fthe Malanites is the fear that the Africanderdom will be annihilated and English capitalism will succeed at the expense of Nationalism. They are gradually getting strong and the number of their parliamentary representatives is about 20. If General Hertzog leads the offensive, Dr. Malan will form the opposition in the Parliament and sit on the cross benches. Nevertheless, it is pretty certain that in the General Election (which will take place this year in any case to endorse the Fusion policy of Generals Hertzog and Smuts- Malanites will lose many seats as they shall have to face the combined opposition of the followers of Smuts and Hertzog. As far as the Indian question is concerned, no new legislation is to be discussed in the Union Parliament owing to the evident fact that the two commissions are working with a view to settle the Indian problems in Natal and Transvaal.

NEWS IN BRIFF

Kunwar Sir Maharaj Singh and Lady Maharaj Singh are leaving for Capetown to-morrow where they will stay for about five months for watching the trend of events taking plaee in the Parliament.

Prince George, the son of His Majesty has sailed for South Africa on a official tour. Great preparations are afoot to give him a right royal welcome. The South African Indian Congress will also associate with other public bodies in the Prince's reception.

A Boer family of poor circumstances, Jonker by name, has had its poverty disappearing in a night by the discovery of the world's fourth largest diamond which fetched him £70,000 Jonker shall have to pay £27,600 to the Revenue Department as his share to Super and Poll taxes. Jinker has been raided by business men since, but the thrifty Boer has not yet made any expensive purchases.

Interesting discussion is to be expected during the session when Dr. Reitz M. P. will introduce his motion for abolisning the appeal to the Privy Council. He wants to test the feeling of the House and further to know whether Lord Hailsham is right or General Hertzog is right as the latter had told the people of South Africa that they were completely free and had sovereign independence of equal status as that of Great Britain. "English Judges", declares Dr. Reitz, "learned as they are in the laws of Great Britain, did not have a specialised knowledge of Roman-Dutch Law."

South African Indian Congress has submitted a lengthy memorandum to the Colonization Inquiry Committee and candidly informed the Commissioners that they were against colonisation and will neither associate in the reduction of the population nor encourage any Indian member of community to leave South Africa. The Congress suggests that the Indians should be permitted to settle in different parts of the Union and provincial barriers be removed, as there is little scope for the successful colonisation of the South African Indian abroad.

INDIANS IN S. AFRICA

Agent's Successful Efforts To Help Them

The following is a brief review of some important cases in which the interests of Indians in South Africa were safeguarded by the Agency of the Government of India from October 1932 to December 1933.

After several interviews between the Agent and the Minister concerned, the latter decided in September, 1933, to appoint a Trade Commissioner for the East and promised to consider subsequently, if the experiment were successful, the appointment of a Tade Commissioner for India.

After personal representations made by the Agent in May, 1933, the General Manager (Mr. Watermeyer) for the South African Railways issued instructions in July, 1933, that respectable Indians are to be admitted to the railway dining cars at the discretion of the Chief Steward after the close of the service to Europeans. The General Manager also stated that in future the same bedding will be supplied to Indians as to Europeans.

WOMEN'S ASSOCIATIONS

A number of Indian Women's Associations have been started in different centres in the Union by the Agent's wife with the help of sympathetic European women. Their object is to promote the social welfare of Indian women and children.

For the first time the Governor-General of the Union of South Africa, at the request of the Agent, granted an interview to a South African Indian. The gentleman concerned was Mr. Cassin Adam, a leading Indian merchant in the Transvaal and in South Africa and at present President of the Transvaal Indian Congress.

For the first time South African Indian gentlemen have been accommodated, at the request of the Agent, in hotels in the Transvaal and Natal.

IN NATAL

In response to the Agent's repeated appeals and interviews with Ministers the Union Government promised to subsidise the employment of Indians up to the number of 600, the Government's contribution being half the wages cost. The Durban Corporation agreed to relieve 300 in February, 1933, and have since actually found work for this number on a total wage of 3/- (three shillings) a day.

The Pietermaritzburg Municipality have also employed 50 Indians on the same terms.

IN TRANSVAAL

As a direct result of the Agent's representations the Springs and Roodepoort Municipalites agreed in 1933 not to take action against Indians in illegal occupation until the Asiatic Land Tenure Act Commission had reported. After great pressure had been brought to bear on them the Krugersdorp Council also agreed to the same course.

A number of educated entrants have obtained admission to the Union from time to time with the assistance of the Agency.

TERRORISM IN COMMONS

Duchess Of Athol Asks What Action India Govt. Has Taken

LONDON, Feb. 12.

In the House of Commons replying to the Duchess of Atholl Sir Samuel Hoare circulated a table showing the terrorist conspiracy cases instituted and the accused persons respectively. Since last June which were in Bengal 3 and 25; in Madras 2 and 30; in Bihar 1 and 2; in Bombay 2 and 8.

The Duchess of Atholl drew attention to the bomb throwing at Chittagong on January 7 and said that the leaflet found on the killed terrorist, signed by the Chittagong Branch of the Indian Republican Army stated that the branch was launching a relentless and never-failing campaign against every Englishman. She asked for an assurance that increased protection was given against similar terrorism.

Sir Samuel Hoare in reply paid a warm tribute to the coolness displayed on that occasion both by officials and non-officials and said that official account of the attempted outrage did not mention the discovery of the leaflet on either of the dead terrorists. He added that stringent precautionary measures had been enforced in the Chittagong area for some time. He said that patrolling in the European residential area had recently increased and the Bill amending the Criminal Law Amendment Act had been introduced.

The Duchess of Atholl has given notice that she would raise the matter of the leaflet on adjournment.

The Duchess of Atholl drew attention to the recent trial of terrorists in Madras wherein evidence was led to show that some 20 conspirators plotted to assassinate officials and mudder Governors in Madras and Bengal and raid European banks and businesses. She asked if all believed to be concerned in the conspiracy had been brought to trial and whether increased protection was being given.

Sir Samuel Hoare replied that the case was still 'sub-judice' and added that he was satisfied that police exercise all possible vigilance to guard against outbreaks of terrorist activities in Madras.

Sir Samuel Hoare informed Mr. Parkinson that the forced labour convention could not be ratified by India while the definition of forced labour therein extended to the labour exacted in connection with reclamation work for criminal tribes and similar beneficial activities. Sir Samuel Hoare added that the Government of India was taking action on the other provisions of the draft convention. Reuter.

NILA NAGINI LEAVES FOR AMERICA

Says She Has No Bitter Feelings Against Gandhiji

CALCUTTA, Feb. 12.

Miss Cram Cook (Nila Nagini) sails at eleven to-night with her little son, Serios, on board the s.s. "City of Elwoods" and expects to reach New York in about 40 days.

She has now broken her silence and appears quite happy and contented, but she refused to give any interviews to the Press. It is gathered, however, from one of the ship's officers that she told him that she regretted leaving India, but thought it might be for the best.

Referring to Mahatma Gandhi she said that she entertained no feelings of bitterness towards him, though she admitted he had spoken very hard words about her, which she felt were unjustified. Her life at the Ashram had been happy, but there had come a moment when she felt she could no longer remain there.

Miss Cram Cook's brother is expected to meet her in New York. She also has a stepmother living in the States, and so she will have friends to look after her.—A. P.

RUBENS PICTURE, FETCHES $300,000

Stove Maker Puts Down Cash And Takes 'Bacchanalian'

Rubens' 'Bacchanalian,' one of the last of the art treasures held by the administrators of the estate of Ivar Kreuger, match king, was sold recently for dolls, 300,000.

The purchaser is John Richardson, Philadelphia stove manufacturer. On seeing the picture, he paid cash for it and walked away with it under his arm, without even wrapping it up.

It is believed the picture cost Kreuger dolls. 30,000. Ricardson had approached the Irving Trust Company, trustees in bankruptcy for Kreuger and Toll, when he heard that the Rubens picture, which measures 2 x 2 1/2 feet, had been withdrawn from the auction sale last December when only dolls. 1,250 was offered for it.

He was referred to the Hudson County National Bank in Jersey City administrators of Kreuger's American estate. The picture was brought up from the vaults and Richardson took it away.

DELHI'S HELP TO BEHAR

Finance Member To Unfold Plan In Budget Speech

NEW DELHI, Feb 12.

The Government's plans for assistance in the reconstruction of Bihar will, it is understood, be unfolded by Sir George Schuster in his budget speech and if Mr. Sher Muhamed Khan moves his resolution tabled for discussion on Wednesday, Government will give a reply in general terms promising full and sympathetic consideration of the request made by non-official members for advancing a loan to Bihar at a very low rate of interest.

SPECIFIC DUTIES.

The parties in the Assembly are busy discussing their respective attitudes on the Tariff Bill imposing specific duties on miscellaneous goods. The enamelled Ironware Industry, which is affected by the Bill, is making every effort to convince the non-officials of the need for restoring, in the Bill, the protection which the Select Committee has deleted and Mr. Lahiri Chaudhury has tabled an amendment embodying the Industry's viewpoint.

GOVERNMENT ATTITUDE.

The Government attitude in the Committee was one of neutrality and the success or failure of the proposal to reverse the Committee's recommendation will depend entirely on Government's decision which, it is expected, the House will endorse.

Discussion on the Bill is bound to be prolonged in view of the large number of amendments tabled, especially those relating to cotton vests and hosiery.

NO BANK CHARGES.

It is understood that arrangements have been made with the Imperial Bank authorities to remit, free of charge, funds for Earthquake relief transmitted to "bona fide" organisations and prominent organisers of relief.—A. P.

BABY WEIGHS ONLY 20 OZ.

Diminitive Girl Belies Doctor's Fears

A baby girl so tiny that at birth the doctor thought her dead, lies contentedly in little basket beside a coal stove in her parents' home at Findlay, Oklahoma, U. S A. Her monther's wedding ring slips easily over her hand like a bracelet.

The girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carmen. Premature by four months and weighing only 20 ounces, she gave no apparent signs of life the father said and the doctor wrapped her in a newspaper and placed her on the kitchen table.

It was two hours later that Carmen, hearing a noise in the kitchen, investigated. It was the baby crying.

Fifteen drops of a prepared milk every 30 minutes is the baby's diet. At first she was fed with a medicine dropper. But now she has been promoted to a doll's unrsing bottle

With blond hair, the animated doll is 14 inches long from head to toe. Her head is eight inches in circumference—no bigger than a tennis ball—and 3½ inches long. Her fingers are only ½inch long and almost as thin as match sticks. She could stand some fat here and there.

Each parent is 19 years old. Neither is unusually small. The doll's great-grandfather, however weighed only two pounds at birth.

ANTI-ROOSEVELT PARTY WILL ARISE

Writer Says Middle Class Is Organising

The possibility of a new political party arising in opposition to President Roosevelt was predicted by Mrs. Ben K. Raleigh, author, who writes under the pen name of Eleanor Kinsella, McDonnell, upon returning to Paris in the mail week, after crossing on the liner Washington from New York, where she had been since early in December visiting editors.

"While undeniably President Roosevelt has a tremendous following declared the writer, "I found that there was a definite opposition forming which will take the form of a middle-class party. Great efforts are now being made to build up such party. The rallying cry is that the people's investments must be saved.

"The old Republican Party is dead, but a new party is arising from the ashes. The old time bankers' clique is strictly taboo. The election in 1936 may find this new party strongly enough entrenched to present redoubtable opposition to the Democrats."

Pathan Murders Pathan In Suburban Train

Throat Slashed From Ear To Ear Before Horrified Passengers

ALLEGED ASSASSIN ARRESTED

Loads of passengers leaving for the suburbs by the B. B. and C. I. Railway local service on Monday morning were astonished when a train was held up for a brief interval midway between the Lower Parel and Elphinstone Road Stations as a sequel to the murder of a Pathan committed in a third-class carriage.

The communication cord had been pulled by a passenger and the train came to a stop with a jerk. Several people alighted from a third class carriage shouting "murder, murder," and shortly afterwards a Pathan, whose clothes were drenched with blood was lifted from the carriage to the ground.

The railway police rushed to the scene and the injured man Lahorekhan Gulkhan Pathan, was removed in a stretcher to the Elphinstone Road station. Before doctors were summoned the unfortunate man succumbed to his injuries. . .

His throat was cut from ear to ear.

Abdul Rehman, another Pathan, the alleged assailant has been arrested by the police on a charge of murder. A pen-knife with which the crime is alleged to have been perpetrated has also been seized by the police.

The crime was committed a little after 8 o'clock in the down local train No. 315. When the train had reached half-way between Parel and Elphinstone Road, passengers huddled in a third class carriage were aghast to see a Pathan suddenly whipping out a knife and attacking another Pathan seated in the compartment.

The victim who was taken unaware it is stated had no time to defend himself and before the other passengers could come to his rescue, the assailaint had slashed his throat with the weapon from ear to ear.

One of the passengers pulled the communication cord and stopped the train.

The railway police are investigating the matter.

STOP PRESS

MILES CONVICTED.

(SPECIAL CABLE).

LONDON, Feb 12

The sensational Old Bailey trial of Captain Miles ended this after noon, when Miles was found guilty of three corruption charges, and also guilty of conspiring to pervert the course of justice and 'not guilty' of other charges, and sentenced to four years' penal servitude.

The Jury considered the verdict for nearly two hours after a 3-1/2 hours' summing up by Justice Hawke.

The Judge in passing the sentence said that, the maximum sentence he could pass on any one of the counts was two years, but it was one of the worst cases of its kind he had ever known. He, therefore, felt bound to put into operation the legal provisions permitting the sentence of penal servitude.

INDIAN DANCE RECITAL

At The Opera House

(By Our Dramatic Critic)

The Indian dance recital arranged at the Opera House on Sunday may be taken as suggestive of the new ambitions which, naturally, pervade the art world of this go-ahead and least purdah-ridden city. Miss Azurie, Rashid and Roshanara were thus assured, and, in fact, did receive a very indulgent audience.

The "Vasanta Vilas" and the "Radha Krishna" thence appearing earlier on the programme were missed by me. But I saw the "Deva Dasi" and the subsequent dances.

Auzurie's "Deva Dasi" seemed to be at once out, refined and overemphatic. It was over refined in costume and over-emphatic in foot work. But some of her gestures which denoted delicate traces of Indian gestures tended to restore the balance.

The "Hunter" dance executed by Rashid, a non-Indian artist, was not dull. Rashid gave it vigour; at times, too much of it The "Shankar and Sati" was, a gain, a familiar theme obviously laboured. The "Phulkumari" and the "Gandharva and Apsara" together with the Marwari dance completed the fare for the evening. The "Marwari" dance, as it has been now designated was, perhaps, the most satisfactory. It was evident that the musicians were not in harmony with the choreographic art they were endeavouring to assist and it is difficult to find an appreciative excuse.

Holiday Racing At Mahaluxmi

DILLON'S GREAT DAY IN THE SADDLE

Kolhapur Stable's Big Double

(By Our Racing Correspondent)

The excellent W. I. T. C. Committee which is never deaf to the call of charity organised a race fixture in aid of the Behar Relief Fund. However, the crowd was not quite the big one anticipated, for the disastrous experiences of recent meetings kept many people away.

The brightest feature of the afternoon's racing was the brilliant riding of Dillon who steered three winners in fine style. On Diwan and Honeydew, the West Australian jockey was seen to great advantage and fully deserved the cheers that greeted him on his return for the "weigh-in."

It was pleasing to see the orange livery of Kolhapur in the limelight yesterday. Jaya Kumar II late Stepping Along won Division II of the Probationers' Plate, though his coming could not have been expected by the stable and the useful Rosewater made the Behar Plate for Indian breds his own and was quite the most popular winner of the afternoon.

H. E. the Governor, Lady Brabourne and Dr. Javle, the Mayor of Bombay were distinguished visitors and took a keen interest in the sport.

Mrs. M. Clarke's speedy filly, Nyasa was an impressive winner of the Malabar Hill, Division I with Dillon astride. Her success gave that very useful young trainer Wallace a longlooked for win. Wallace has been right out of touch with fortune, but few trainers are more conscientious and painstaking than he and he deserves all the luck that comes his way. Very well backed here, Staff Officer made a great bid for victory, but found Nyasa too full of running to be seriously troubled Knight's Adventure held the others.

A capital finish for Division II saw Honeydew in H. E. the Viceroy's colours beat Permarch on the post, Dillon being the successful pilot. Psaltery kept Lignan out of the minor placing but the latter will be seen to advantage before long.

A big son of Allenby, Inniskilling had an easy success in Division I of the Probationers' Plate. First away from the barrier he kept the early advantage to beat Forecat and Mountgarret. Thornham was late on the scene and will win over a longer course.

Backers made no mistake when they plumped for Rosewater in the Behar Plate. The Kolhapur owned Indian bred toyed with his field and had the race won a long way from home.

Sanguine and Honeysuckle filled the minor placings, neither having displayed staying tendencies before.

Best backed in the Charity Plate, Solomon's Seal could only manage a fourth, being much too late on the scene to spell danger to Miss Mount and Kirkibost. Miss Mount who had figured inconspicuously in previous essays found the slow pace to her liking and she credited Mahomedali with one of his occasional successes.

Jayakumar II won the Probationer's Plate, Division II in a manner that presages further successes. The five year old son of Galloper Light proved far too good for another new comer in Abundance. Pomagne, gave a speedy display to secure a minor placing, but Ascalon and Philip Sidney ran disappointingly.

The entries for the Patna Plate, having filled well there were three divisions for this event Hamdoon scored easily at the expense of Hitler and Safi al Mulk. The hitherto luckless Breach got his head in front in Division II when beating Green Lawn and Mal Allah in an interesting finish.

A brilliant riding effort on the part of Dillon resulted in Diwan getting the better of Rajput and Goodbye in Division III. A slow beginning extinguished any chance that Jassam Beg might have had, though he did well to finish fourth under the circumstances.

With the weather warm and sultry it was not surprising to see the Refreshment Room and Buffet well patronised and the efficient staff of Messrs. Brandon and Co. coped satisfactorily with the demands of customers.

1st Race (2-15 p. m.)

THE PATNA PLATE.—(Div. III.) Distance.—6 furlongs.

Winner, Rs. 1,500; second Rs. 500; third, Rs. 250.

Terms for Arabs in Class III. W. A. reduced 7 lbs. Penalties.—Winners, after 31st March, 1933 of a race value Rs. 1,200 or over once 7 lbs: twice 12 lbs.; oftener, 16 lbs.

Allowance—Ponies 14 hands and under, 4 lbs.

Nawabzada Fakrulmulk and N. Mathradas's HAMDOON 7-10 Meekings 1

ALL-INDIA HOCKEY TEAM

Dhyan Chand Recommended As Captain

LAHORE, (By Mail.)

In view of the magnificent services rendered by Dhyan Chand to the cause of Indian Hockey, it was strongly urged, at an emergent meeting of the Executive Committee of the Punjab Hockey Association, that he be appointed the Captain of the All-India Hockey Team, which will be selected at Delhi, to participate in the Western Asiatic Games in early March. This point was further stressed by the committee, as Dhyan Chand may not be able to get such a chance again. The meeting was held this evening at the Y.M.C.A., with Mr. G. D. Sondhi, the president of the P.H.A., in the chair.

PUNJAB'S CONTINGENT.

It was also decided that Jaffar (L.E.), Om Parkash, (R.H.B.), Penniger (C.H.B.) and Gurcharan (L.H.B.) be sent to Delhi to participate in the All-India Trials there. In case any one of them is not taken and there is a place left vacant in the team for want of suitable player, the Committe decided to recommend Mendis (R.E.), Charanji (L.H.B.), Scouthern (R.F.B.) and Gurcharan (L.F.B.).

AMARSINGH'S PERFORMANCE PRAISED

"Best Thing He Has Ever Done," Says Gilligan

(SPECIAL CABLE)

LONDON, Feb. 12.

We cannot overlook the fact that Nissar's inability to play is a heavy blow to India, says Mr. A. E. R. Gilligan in the "News Chronicle." The lion-hearted Amarsingh put up a magnificent performance, one of the best things he has ever done. Jardine played a real captain's innings of the back-to-wall variety. I expect he will enforce a follow on and should not be surprised if England gains an innings victory.

S. C. SHAHANI HIGH SCHOOL

(From A Correspondent.)

KARACHI, Feb. 12.

The memory of the late Mr. S. C. Shahani, Principal of the D. J. Sind College is kept green in Karachi where nine months ago, a High School called after him has sprung up. This school owed its inception to the energy and enthusiasm of Mr. C. N. Wadhwani, Secretary of the Karachi Rabindranath Dramatic and Leiterary Society.

The school has a creditable record. Within nine months it has developed very well. There are students of both sexes.

It is understool that the school will soon be affiliated and a grant might also be sanctioned.

RADIO CLUB FOR LUCKNOW?

Physics Professor's Plea For Broadcasting Station

LUCKNOW (By Mail)

Dr. Wali Mohd. Professor of Physics in the University of Lucknow in statement to the Press said:—

"The Physics Department of the Lucknow University recently undertook some test transmissions from their Radio Transmitter to investigate the possibility of using the Unversity Transmitter as a nucleus for the formation of a Radio Club for Lucknow. The need for such a club has been very apparent for some time past. There are a number of listeners in and around Lucknow who possess powerful receivers and who are keen on radio reception but the difficulty so far has been what to receive.

The two Indian Broadcasting stations, namely Bombay and Calcutta are about a thousand miles away and the reception from them can hardly be called enjoyable. Usually there are so many atmospherics present that listening, if not impossible, is not enjoyable.

RECEPTION MARRED

Recently, with the introduction of the new wave-length plan in Europe, Bombay has developed a new trouble. It heterodynes with another powerful station and the reception is completely marred by a loud and persistent whistle. It is clear that with conditions like these radio reception can never be really popular. The Empire Short-wave station which was started last year has not come up to expectations chiefly because of the uncertainty and the inherent difficulty of tuning with short waves. The solution of the problem lies only with having a local Broadcasting station. —A. P.

RLY. LINE CROSSING HELD ILLEGAL

(From Our Correspondent.)

THANA, Feb. 12.

Is crossing of railway lines in all circumstances illegal? This question was decided in the affirmative on Saturday last by the Sessions Judge of Thana.

A test case was argued by Mr. M. S. Rangnekar, a prominent pleader of Thana, before Mr. N. N. Master, Sessions Judge, Thana, when a revision application from the City Magistrate's Court, who had convicted Bapu Ramchandra Rede for unlawful entry upon railway lines under section 122 (1) of the Indian Railways Act and sentenced him to pay a fine of Rupee one or in default suffer one day's simple imprisonment, came up for hearing.

The facts, as alleged by the prosecution in the lower court, were that the applicant had gone on October 29 last to the Thana station at the time of the arrival of the Up Nagpur Express. After entering the station, he found that he was late to catch the train, so he crossed the railway lines in spite of the protests by a porter on duty.

The applicant admitted that he had gone to the station that day, but denied having crossed the lines and stated that he used the overbridge.

A defence witness was, however, disbelieved by the Magistrate.

The applicant went in revision for reporting his case to the High Court to quash the sentence.

It was urged by Mr. Rangnekar, the pleader for the applicant, that entry on station being lawful, subsequent crossing of the railway lines was not illegal.

The Sessions Judge, in rejecting the application, observed that though entry on station was lawful, the applicant was not entitled in law to cross the lines specially when the railway company had built an overbridge and put a board intimating to use the overbridge with a warning that trespassers would be prosecuted. "I am clearly of the opinion that he (the applicant) has committed an offence punishable under section 122 (1) of the Indian Railways Act" the Judge added.

Fine being nominal, concluded the Judge, and the matter trivial, he did not think it worthwhile to report the case to the Bombay High Court.

PRESS REPORT BASELESS

B. L. Mitter's Plans

From Our Special Correspondent)

NEW DELHI, Feb. 12.

Recently the suggestion was made in the "Hindustan Times" that Sir B. L. Mitter might succeed Sir P. C. Mitter as Member of the Bengal Executive Council. The suggestion is repudiated by those who know the plans of Sir B. L. Mitter.

HIS PLANS.

He has no intention of giving up the present appointment for joining the Bengal Government, nor has he any intention of entering public life immediately after retirement from the Government of India. He would like to take rest for some time and then make up his mind regarding his sphere of work in future.

HIS EXPERIENCE.

For one thing it is held by the Assembly members that Sir B. L. Mitter's knowledge and experience should in future be available at the Centre and that there is no reason to think that Sir Brojendra would think of abandoning the sphere in which he has proved so useful.

NEW LAL BAGH MARKET LICENCED

We understand that it has been decided to grant a licence for the new Market at Lal Baug.

This market, which has been flourishing without a licence in defiance of the law, for the past year and-a-half, came into existence it will be remembered during the riots of 1932.

The market already in existence, which had satisfied the needs of the locality for a number of years, belongs to a Mahomedan firm and was boycotted by the Hindu vendors and customers, as a result of the feeling worked up at the time, and the former went out and squatted on a vacant Improvement Trust plot.

When they were forced to evacuate this plot, some land was leased to them by a Parsi landlord. The new market, however, was still without a licence and the matter provoked much controversy in the Corporation.

PRESS CANARD EXPOSED

PATNA, Feb. 12.

Enquiries made in official circles here show that there is no foundation for a report published in some newspapers that, owing to the great damage done to the Patna High Court building as a result of the earthquake and in order to enable rebuilding, it is proposed to divide the Patna High Court into two portions and transfer one half of its juridiction to the Allahabad High Court and the other half to the Calcutta High Court.

The work of the High Court is proceeding normally and all judges are holding their courts on the ground floor of the building, which is perfectly safe. The damaged parts of the building are already under repairs.—A. P.

India Faced With Heavy Task

Require 387 Runs To Win With 8 Wkts. In Hand

England scored very fast in their second innings, scoring 261 runs in 215 minutes.

Nazir Ali, who did not bowl a single ball in the first innings, took four wickets for 83 runs, but Amarnath returned the best analysis with two wickets for 32.

Walter's century was a chanceless one. He hit 13 fours.

At close of play India in their second innings had made 65 for the loss of 2 wickets.

With 8 wickets in hand India now require 387 runs to win.

MADRAS, Feb. 12.

Under medical advice it was decided not to permit Naoomal to resume his innings to-day although he was himself quite prepared bat again. Naoomal's eye is slightly swollen but except for the swelling there is nothing wrong with it. India's innings thus closed for the overnight score of 145 Mushtaq Ali remaining not out with seven.

Walters has shown remarkable consistency in the final Test. He score 59 in the first innings and in the second knock he scored 102.

England's Second Innings

In view of the fact that there were still two days left for the play and England were no more than 190 runs on, Jardine decided not to enforce a follow on, because in that case if India made a good recovery England would have to bat on a crumbled wicket on the fourth day.

Jardine again selected Walters and Bakewell to open the Englands innings.

BAKEWELL OUT FOR 4.

Nayudu entrusted the attack this time to Amarsingh and Nazir Ali the latter figuring as a bowler for the first time in this match. Off the first ball of Nazir Ali's opening over Bakewell was missed in the slips, a left-handed catch being dropped being touched. But amends for this mistake was soon made by the same fielder who caught Bakewell low in the gully. It was the fifth ball of Amarsingh's third over to which England's first wicket fell to-day.

Tremendous enhusiasm was evoked by this initial success for Amarsingh who was again bowling with great accuracy. Both from the way Bakewell gave two chances within 10 minutes and from the manner in which Walters and Bakewell were not allowing any scoring opportunities to pass them it was at once apparent that Jardine's plan of campaign was to make the best use of the time that he was permitting his side at the crease thereby, to make the eventual declaration as safe as possible at the same time ensuring that it shall not be infrctuous for shortage of time.

WALTER HITS OUT.

Walters drove and square-cut with tremendous power at one stage beating C. K. Nayudu at mid-off with three successive drives. Amarnath for Nazir Ali at 26 was the first change but, to-day Amarnath was treated with scant respect, Walters driving him twice to the boundary. Against this hurricane hitting the fielding appeared a bit rattled but no actual case of misfielding was apparent, only a great pace of batsmen's stroke piercing the field. At noon when the game had lasted 45 minutes 50 of England's second innings was hoisted.

BARNETT IN FORM.

A situation which caused for quick rungetting always shows Barnett to grea advantage and to-day he was seen at his best. Many of his hardest shots however went straight to the fielders and seldom brought more than a single or two but Walters placed with great ability.

Excesssive forcing of pace however cost Barnett his wicket. In Nazir Ali's second over from the pavilion end Barnett skied an off-drive and was cleverly caught by Mushtaq Ali for 26. He was batting for 44 minutes and two fours. This wicket fell at 12-20 when the total was 76.

Townsend joined Walters who was now not out with 45.

NAZIR ALI'S SUCCESS.

Yesterday's events now began to repeat themselves and England started losing wickets quickly. And this time it was Nazir Ali who did the damage as Amarsingh yesterday. In his second spell Nazir Ali took three wickets, his analysis being 6/0/20/3.

Townsend off-drove Nazir Ali uppishly and C. K. Naidu brought off an overhead catch with the greatest ease holding the ball as though it had been tossed up to him in practise catching. Naidu could easily have got it two-handed.

100 RUNS IN 90 MINUTES

Nichols came in and hooked Nazir Ali for a fine six over the square-leg boundary. This shot sent up hundred of the innings in 90 minutes. The very next ball gave Nazir Ali his third wicket, Nichols in attempting a cut, snicking the ball into the hands of Dilawar Hussain standing well back. This was an excellent success for Nazir Ali and the more speculative among the spectators began to conjure up visions of what "might have been" had Naidu given a trial to Nazir Ali with the ball yesterday. But it should also be remembered in this connection that while Nazir Ali might well have been unsuccessful he might have made his sprain worse.

AMARSINGH DROPS CATCH.

Langridge gave a good stand to Walters who now hit out with great confidence. He on-drove Amarsingh to the boundary and entered his eighties, this score having occupied him five minutes under two hours. Langridge gave an easy chance to Amarsingh at silly mid-on off Nazir Ali but the catch, was dropped. Langridge then had another life in C. K. Naidu's next over, Dilawar Hussain missing a stumping chance. The score at lunch was 141 for four wickets, Walters (not out) 82. Langridge (not out) 12 extras, 1.

Leg-gliding Major Naidu to the boundary on resumption Walters sent up 150 of the innings. Then with three off Nazir Ali he entered his nineties and quickly with an off-driven four against C. K. Naidu he reached his 100 in 145 minutes. His 18 runs after lunch were scored in 20 minutes.

Immediately after reaching his hundred Walters hit out recklessly and skying the ball at deep mid-off was caught by substitute (Gopalan) off Amarnath.

Walters was batting altogether for 150 minutes and hit in all thirteen fours. He received a great ovation on his return to the pavilion.

Jardine joined Langridge.

Jardine square-cut Amarnath to boundary almost immediately on coming in (an unusual thing for Jardine to do so) and generally played as though he intended to shoulder his share in pushing forward the score as quickly as possible. He made a number of beautiful strokes such as he rarely employes when he plays to keep an end up. The second century of the innings was reached in 165 minutes and a new ball being given to Nazir Ali. He immediately proceeded to take his fourth victim with it. Langridge mistimed a cut and was snapped up behind the wicket. In a stay of 85 minutes Langridge had hit four times to the boundary in a score of 46 and he gave two chances.

MITCHELL CAUGHT.

Jardine distinguished himself as a glutton for fours, hitting with great power and certainty. Jardine however only reached the boundary twice. Eventually, Mitchell was caught and bowled by Amarnath for 28.

Towards the close, Naidu seemed to be at his wits end which bowlers to employ and was changing his bowlers haphazard. He relied on Amarnath and Wazirali as he found that the other bowlers were tiring and losing their strength under the persistent fire of batsmen's all round stroke play. Fielding remained steady despite some lapses but C. S Naidu, Merchant and Gopalan did excellent work wherever they were placed. With the fall of Mitchell's wicket at 3-35 Jardine declared England innings.

INDIA'S SECOND KNOCK.

By declaring near tea interval Jardine set India to get 451 runs in 375 minutes to win. Naoomall not being available for play, Naidu opened India's second innings with Dilawar Hussain and Mushtaq Ali. Clark and Nichols were again unsuccessful both Dilawar and Mushtaq Ali leaving their sharply rising deliveries severely alone. Each however got a risky four through the slips against either bowler. At 15 Jardine rang the first double change bringing on Landridge for Clark (4/2/5/0) and Verity for Nichols (now 3/1/10/0). Verity's started off with two maiden overs. Mushtaq Ali rushed out to drive the last ball of Verity's second over and hitting inside the ball gave a sharp catch to Mitchell at slip.

WAZIR ALI CAUGHT

Wazir Ali started off shakily but later played with greatest confidence one off-drive against Langridge beating two fielders easily. He was batting altogether for 38 minutes and the crowd frequently cheered him for his excellent cuts and leg side strokes. Eventually he was out in the same manner as Mushtaq Ali. He rushed to drive Verity and gave a fast catch to Mitchell who jumping high for it, got a fine two-handed chance. This was a real disaster for India who had lost two wickets in an hour's play.

AMARSINGH SCORES

Naidu sent in Amarsingh to play out the remaining seven minutes and in this short time the Kathiawar player hit out so lustily and effectively that the crowd (who had been greatly depressed at India's sad plight during the day) was put into great good humour with themselves and returned home well satisfied. Amarsingh hit Clark for two fours and Verity for another four, his strokes in actual five minutes' play including three boundary hits, a three and a two. Dilawar was throughout playing very steadily.

BOMBAY: TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 1934

RECONSTRUCTION

In his interview on the situation in Behar Pundit Jawaharlal Nehru has done well to fix public attention on certain features of relief that have not so far received adequate notice. These refer mainly to (1) the relief of the villagers in the vast rural area that has been ruined and made immediately unfit for cultivation; (2) the need for reconstruction to set the people on their legs; (3) the need for co-operative work and organisation among the stricken people themselves; and (4) finally the need for a humane attitude on the part of officials dealing with people who fail to pay in time their dues to Government. The first two items need vast amounts. As the Pundit has pointed out, Government will have to give loans freely from their Famine Relief Funds. Indeed, that is the most economic way to avert famine conditions. For those like women and children, who cannot get better remunerative work, there are vast possibilities in organising hand-spinning and handweaving; and people can be found all over the country to guarantee the purchase of Bihar khaddar as fast as it is produced. It is important, as Pundit Jawaharlal observes, that the people should be enabled as early as possible to help themselves and work in concert. Here is a vast field for those Congressmen and others who wish to excel in constructive work. As regards officials' attempts to recover dues to Government, we hope the instance, quoted by the Pundit, of a man whose lota and bedding were attached because he had failed to pay the Chowkidari tax is a solitary exception. Subordinate officials must be taught by the higher ones to err, if necessary, on the side of humanity.

15 Crores Wanted

Among the hardest problems of reconstruction are the building of tolerably good permanent houses to shelter the lakhs of people rendered homeless and the reclaiming of the vast stretches of arable land that have been converted into sandy deserts. It is estimated that about twenty thousand square miles of land have been damaged more or less. How to bring so much land under cultivation before the next sowing season comes and how to build thousands of houses before the rains set in is a tremendous task that will sorely try both the Government and the public. In the last analysis the problem is chiefly financial and it is obviously impossible to tackle it with mere doles of relief, essential as these are at the present stage. According to an estimate by the Hon. Mr. Syed Abdul Aziz, Minister of Education and Industries, Behar, the cost of reconstruction will be at least Rs. 5 crores. We fear this is an underestimate, and several others who have more fully surveyed the extent of havoc estimate the total cost of reconstruction at anything from ten to fifteen crores of rupees. It being impossible to raise this amount with free gifts, the most feasible and the speediest way is for the Government of India to raise a loan specially for the relief of Behar at a very low rate of interest. And we feel sure that, if the Government and the leaders work for it in concert, it should be possible to subscribe to the loan in a few weeks. The Railways, the collieries, the jute mills and other factories of Behar, the Banks, Life Insurance Companies and several other local concerns have prospered on the labour and wealth of the people of the province and will no doubt contribute to the Relief Loan generously in their own interests as well as those of the suffering people. Thousands even outside Behar will be glad to subscribe, their benevolence being already manifested by the free gifts they have made so far.

No Delay

It is encouraging to learn that the Government of India have given an assurance of generous financial assistance to Behar and that the latter Government have made a beginning in advancing building loans to their own employees and will soon extend the concessions to private persons. According to our New Delhi correspondent the Government of Behar insist on imposing a limit of Rs. 5,000 beyond which no loan would be sanctioned for building purposes. This will be an arbitrary limit that will operate most harshly so far as the middle classes are concerned. We trust the Government of Behar will revise their attitude. If financial difficulties come in the way the Government of India should see that they are removed by assurance of all help that is necessary. But delay in such matters will lead to much avoidable distress. It is to be hoped, therefore, that representatives of the Central and the local Governments and the Behar public will work out a comprehensive scheme of reconstruction and launch it without any further delay.

Why This Arrest?

Pundit Jawaharlal Nehru has been arrested. The speculations indulged in certain quarters about the possibility of a welcome change in the policy of the Government evidently were more attractive than justified. The Civil Disobedience movement is virtually, if not formally, suspended and the energies of the country generally and of Congressmen in particular are being concentrated on the prosecution of the immediate work of providing relief to the distressed in Behar and on the accomplishment of the still more important task of reconstruction in that unhappy province. Next to Babu Rajendra Prasad, no single prominent Indian has taken a more helpful and active part in this work than Pundit Jawaharlal Nehru. And Behar needs few things more urgently than his dynamic energy and his inspiring presence. Is it wise that he should be arrested at a juncture such as this, especially when Mahatma Gandhi also has almost decided to proceed to Behar to help and hearten its suffering people? Nothing could be more in the interests of the people of Behar than the presence of Mahatma Gandhi and Pundit Jawaharlal in their midst. Government who, the country naturally expects, have the interests of the people of Behar at heart, should have welcomed the co-operation of Pundit Jawaharlal. The amazing decision to arrest him—whoever may be responsible for that decision—is likely to create a suspicion in the mind of the people throughout the country that Government do not welcome this co-operation. It is not in Lord Willingdon's own interest and that of his Government—we presume that the action has not been taken without their knowledge—that such a suspicion should be created. He must immediately reconsider the decision—than which nothing more unfortunate and impolitic could be imagined—and order the release of Pundit Jawaharlal, and thus enable Behar to avail itself of his invaluable services.

Fiscal Farce

If Sir Samuel Hoare has overruled the Government of India, Sir George Schuster is bound to oppose Mr. Mitra's resolution to equalise import and excise duties on kerosene and mineral oils. He may have been in favour of the resolution which would have yielded to this poor country a revenue of about 70 lakhs. But it is evident and natural that, as between British and Indian interests, Sir Samuel Hoare should choose the former. And it is equally evident and natural—we cannot recall any instance to the contrary—that the Government of India should, if necessary, change their own opinions to be able to agree with the Secretary of State. Sir George Schuster will explain how he was misunderstood and then oppose the resolution. What is known as "fiscal autonomy" is fiscal freedom subject to prior permission by the British Government of which the Government of India is a subordinate branch. It is a farce and the affirmation of it by the bureaucracy and the Secretary of State merely adds insult to injuries.

SWADESHI AND SELF-GOVERNMENT

Late Lokamanya's Mantra

(By AN INDIAN NATIONALIST.)

Self-government is my birthright and I shall have it," said the late Lokamanya Tilak. As against this "mantra" which the Lokamanya preached to the whole of India, British Imperialists like Mr. Winston Churchill proclaim with equal emphasis that it is their birthright to hold India in perpetual subjection. Mr. Churchill has recently said that if England relaxes her hold on India she will lose her position in the world without the least hope of repair. The explanation is clear enough. While one man in every four in Britain draws his rich maintenance from India in one form or another, hardly one in a hundred in India knows what it is to have two full meals a day. It is not possible for this state of things to continue for ever, especially when India has come to feel and feel keenly her present state of misery.

Khadi, the Symbol.

India wants to control her resources for her own maintenance and position in the world. A subject nation as India is, it is not impossible for her to reach her goal by means at her command. The late Lokamanya's mantra has awakened India who has found her faith in Swadeshi and Khadi, as introduced by Mahatma Gandhi, is its symbol. Whatever may be the agreements with Lancashire and Japan or any other favoured nation at the expense of India, none of these can barter away India's heart if India is true to herself and to the interests of millions of her sons. If we learn to govern ourselves in matters under our own control for the benefit of our country we shall at no distant date realise our birthright and achieve self-government by our own means. Of all these means Swadeshi is the most natural and unassailable. If all Indians, young and old, rich and poor, unswervingly follow the creed of Swadeshi without being lured away by the dazzling colours of foreign goods and foreign products no power on earth will put us back from our future of wealth and prosperity.

Platform of Unity.

Indian owners of vested interests in matters of trade and manufacture should remember that they are but a drop in the wide ocean of poverty and misery in their own country. They should manage their trade and manufacture in such a way that it will lead to the increasing growth of industries in their own country and ensure improved and improving raw products in India. Profits which they may make by enriching foreign countries and impoverishing their own will not long remain with them. They will only impoverish their country by the lure of vanishing gains. It is to their lasting and ultimate benefit that our traders and manufacturers should enshrine in their hearts the Swadeshi sentiment while the same is animating the masses in India. Our leaders are seeking a platform on which to build up India's unity, there is no platform better and firmer than Swadeshi on which all Indians without distinction of caste or creed can meet and lead the country to a prosperous future.

TEMPLE ENTRY BILL

What It Is And What It Is Not

(By S. D. NADKARNI)

In view of the active and widespread campaign of unscrupulous misrepresentation now being carried on by the anti-reformers against the Temple Entry Bill, may I be permitted to explain what the Bill is and what it is not.

(1) In no way does the Bill concern itself with the management of any temple, public or private.

(2) The mere passing of the Bill will not enable the Untouchables to enter any public temple, much less a private one, which is now closed to them.

(3) It is not a disability of the Untouchables, but a disability of the 'Touchable' Hindus, that the Bill is meant to remove.

By the existing law (in the shape of Privy Council and other rulings) the Touchables or the people now entitled to use a public temple are debarred from effecting any change they may deem necessary in the existing custom in regard to the use of the temple by other classes than themselves.

A single dissentient can by applying to a Court of Law prevent the majority of its beneficiaries,

PLIGHT OF BOMBAY'S MILL INDUSTRY

Can It Be Saved By Protection?

(By P. G. KANEKAR.)

I.

I have indicated in my article in the "Chronicle" of 27th January, 1934, the extent of unemployment among the mill-workers of Bombay and the depth of the wage-cuts suffered by them. It is generally supposed that this is only a passing phase due to the trade depression prevailing at present in the world in general and in this country in particular. If it were so, one would be inclined to hope that Bombay's mill industry might see better days sooner or later. Let us consider whether there are any grounds for entertaining this hope should the industry be carried on in the present manner.

If the trade depression which affects the whole world were the only cause of the present condition of the textile mill industry in Bombay the other mill industry centres in the country would be found in the same situation and also all the mills in Bombay would equally suffer. But the facts show that it is not so.

INCREASED PRODUCTION.

The figures relating to the home production and imports of piece-goods disclose that the number of spinning and weaving mills has steadily increased in India, that spindles and looms have also been added in old mills, that the production of mills has on the whole increased that the production of handlooms has, thanks to the Khaddar propaganda, also increased though on a small scale, and that in consequence the imports have steadily decreased. It is true that the quantity of total consumption of cloth has decreased, but that must be attributed to the reduced purchasing power of the masses. Much is made of the Japanese competition, but the fact that the imports have steadily decreased goes to prove that Japan has benefitted more at the expense of Lancashire than of India. The steady increase in the quantity of home production has been able to replace a large quantity which had formerly to be imported to satisfy the demand in the Indian market. While discussing the question, what are future prospects of Bombay's mill industry, the consideration of Bombay's contribution to the increased home production is more important and relevant than the share of Japan in the decreased imports.

That there is internal competition is an undeniable fact, the trade depression has not affected the mill industry in Ahmedabad so much as that in Bombay. According to the "Labour Gazettee" of December, 1933, 57 mills out of 84 were working in Bombay in November 1933 and the number of mills working in Ahmedabad in the same month was 74. The number of mills working in Bombay has been since reduced to 50. In spite of the trade depression the number of Ahmedabad mills has been increasing at the rate of half a dozen or more mills every year.

DID BOMBAY BENEFIT BY PROTECTION?

Revenue and protective tariffs have helped to check foreign imports and thus have helped indigenous mill industry. The Bombay mill-owners took the initiative in asking for protection. Ahmedabad was not so vociferous in demanding protection. Ahmedabad and other centres of textile mill industry, of course, supported the demand and the protection did benefit them. The Bombay mill-owners fought the battle for protection and succeeded in getting it, they demanded it saying that it was absolutely necessary in face of Japanese competition and that they would not be able to carry on the industry without it. The protection has not, however, enabled the mill industry in Bombay to arrest its fast decline. Will the Bombay mill-owners again put forth a demand for increased protection? Is protection to be unlimited? The present tariff walls are already high enough and there will always be a limit to the consumers' capacity to pay, and especially so when the commodity prices have reached the bottom rock.

And where is the guarantee that a further protection would save the Bombay mill industry from ruin? Further protection would certainly enable the other centres to start more mills and consequently the internal competition would be still more intensified compelling Bombay to close some of the remaining mills.

Ahmedabad and other mill centres have certain advantages over Bombay. A few of these advantages are due to their geographical position and the others may be attributed to better organisation of production

FRANKLY SPEAKING

SIMON "EXCOMMUNICATED."

The group of British politicians that claims allegiance to Liberalism is too negligible to count as a Party. The Party as such is practically dead with two sets of "Liberals"——Sir Herbert Samuel and Company limited and Mr. Lloyd George and family limited—as residuary legatees and with Sir Sir George Simon occasionally entering a caveat in favour of his own claims. But if "Liberals" desire to preserve the illusion about the Party's existence they cannot but "excommunicate" Sir John Simon as they are reported to have done. He cannot belong to the Government and the Opposition at one at the same time. Nor can he with any show of reason, remain a member of the "Liberal Party" by supporting professedly conservative candidates against Liberal opponents.

SHOCK-PROOF PREMIER.

The Tories have retained Cambridge in the recent bye-election. Yet there is a change which is both tremendous and significant. The Conservative majority has been reduced by 12,000 and Labour has polled 4,000 votes more than in 1931. The reception accorded to Mr. Ramsay MacDonald in Seaham and Leeds must have rudely shocked the Premier. He has not been heard of since although he had announced a country-wide campaign to popularise the "National Government." This bye-election ought to convince him that his Government stands completely discredited in the eyes of the electorate. But Mr. MacDonald's tenacity in office can withstand worse shocks. Indeed, it has already been proclaimed that the "National Government" will continue till 1936.

YEMEN.

Relations between the British Government and Imam Yehia of Yemen have so far been, we believe, what the language of diplomacy calls "correct and proper," in other words not quite cordial. The news, therefore, of a treaty of friendship between the two parties is an important achievement, on the material consequences of which it is a little too early to speculate in detail. The treaty is a natural sequel to the earlier treaty between Imam Yehia and King Ibn Saud whose relations were marked by mutual hostility. And two possible aspects of it are obvious enough. It brings all the Arabian countries, except Syria, under British influence and it will not be welcomed by another great Power namely, Italy.

A WELCOME MOVE.

Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru is reported to have suggested to the Aga Khan that Hindus would be prepared to concede to Muslims all their demands regarding safeguards in provinces where the latter are in a minority on condition that in those provinces where they are in a majority they should agree to joint electorates without any reservation of seats on strict principles of democracy. We do not know how far the report is quite accurate but it does appear that communications are going on between certain Hindu and Muslim leaders with regard to the possibility of revising the Communal Award. We welcome Dr. Sapru's formula so far as it goes and the negotiations in general. The formula may well be accepted by Muslims as it is sure to give them more seats in their majority provinces than does the Award, especially if the special constituencies are scrapped and adult franchise is permitted.

ANTI-CASTE BILL.

Mr. B. V. Jadhav's anti-caste Bill is a bold but just attempt to mitigate the social evils of caste by abolishing the recognition of the system by Government and the Courts. Thus if the Bill becomes law caste in a sense will be "disestablished" legally, though the orthodox Hindus will be free to observe in their private or non-legal spheres any caste distinctions they choose. Sanatanist Brahmins may, if they like, regard themselves as superior to all other castes and refuse to interdine or intermarry with persons of other castes. But all castes will be equal in the eyes of law, which will not penalise interdining or intermarriage or any other breaches of caste restrictions. We do not understand why Mr. Jadhav wants to call all Hindus Brahmans. No other name than Hindus is necessary. However, we cordially welcome the principle of the Bill.

intention outraged the religious feelings of the Catholics and the Muslims by insulting their religions. The charge was sought to be proved by quoting words and sentences, divorced from their context, and the Magistrate took the only possible course open to reason and justice. He pointed out that one could not pounce upon a word here and there and make it a pivot on which to hang the whole issue. Sir. Hormuzdiar Dastur, the Magistrate who tried the case, deserves the thanks of all those who are interested in destroying the stupid and extranuous outgrowth of superstitions beliefs which stifle the spirit of religion for his courageous decision—"Hitawada.

Down With Caste

Mr. B. V. Jadhav's Bill for abolishing the recognition of Hindu Castes by Government and the Courts is a curious product of strange circumstances. The orthodox would condemn Mr. Jadhav's scheme as they have condemned the Temple Entry Bill. Another section will insist that the four varnas should be preserved. The 1931 Census states that "there is a tendency for the limitations of caste to be loosened and for rigid caste distinctions to be broken down." If that be the case, Government, by accepting the Bill (substituting the word "Hindu" for "Brahmana"), would be merely recognising legally a change which is taking place to-day under our very eyes. —"Pioneer."

Revolutionary Bill

The Bengal Criminal Law Amendment Bill is a revolutionary piece of legislation and it is a Bill against which a nation-wide campaign must be immediately organised. We call upon every village and every town in Bengal and every hearth and home to demonstrate their emphatic protest against it in a definite and effective manner. We call upon the constituencies to force their representatives in the Council either to reject the Bill or to clear out of the Council. We challenge supporters of the Bill to come forward and face open meetings and obtain public sanction for their foolish, misguided and mischievous action in giving the executive the drastic powers for which they have asked.—"Advance."

There is no truth in the rumour that immediately on receipt of information that Jawaharlal had led digging operations and even carried basketfuls of debris on his head, an emergency meeting of the Bihar Executive Council was called by the Governor to decide upon what operations they would lead. Nor is there any truth in the suggestion that District and Division Officers were unduly alarmed lest they might be called upon to handle strange instruments and burden their heads with anything heavier than Sola Hats—to the grave prejudice of the individual's limbs and the State's prestige.

Mr. Nariman complains that Sir Samuel Hoare's appeal re: Bihar Relief "has fallen on deaf ears" so far as the majority of officials in India are concerned. The officials may complain back, with very good reason, that it is very rude, cruelly rude, of Mr. Nariman to make pointed references to natural disabilities and refuse, in justifiable protest, to contribute.

No, Mr. Nariman won't do. But then he is a Congressman.

We should rather follow the lead given by Mr. Jayakar in connection with the W.P. We ought to shout, but shout humbly, our appreciation of officials' generosity in non-payment. That will fetch 'em. They will give, give promptly and give in profusion—their hearty thanks.

HELP OUR HOSPITALS

To The Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—Opening the H. O. H. Fete Lord Brabourne made an unhesitating appeal to the charitable public of Bombay to put their hands into their pockets and do what they could 'to relieve the needs of the sick and suffering in this City? The slogan of the Fete is 'Help Our Hospitals.' The charitable public, who put their hands into their pockets, are entitled to know if all the hospitals of the people will get a share in the collections, particularly as the receipts of every public hospital from the charitable public of Bombay are likely to be affected by the special efforts which the public make to support this Fete. The charitable public have all public hospitals in mind when they contribute their best to this Fete and neither can themselves make nor can understand any difference between one public hospital and another.

I am led to make these remarks by the reference to three Hospitals by name in a decision announced by the Governor to assign 15 per cent. of the Government share of the receipts from the Fete to the Nursing Associations at the Goculdas Tejpal, the Jamsetjee Jeejeebhoy and the St. George's Hospitals. I am inclined to ask where is Bai Yamunabai Nair Hospital, the public Hospital par excellence, our Hospital in every sense of the term, a Hospital which has also been recognised by the Bombay Presidency Nursing Council for the training of the probationer nurses in Medical and Surgical Nursing. It should not be forgotten that the educated and charitable public of Bombay have a place in their hearts for this Hospital and would not like it to be neglected by the organisers of the H. O. H. Fete. Though it came into existence through the generosity of one man —I think the source from which the J. J. and the G. T. sprung is similar — the entire management thereof is now vested in the Council of Management of the National Medical College. Since 1923 Yamunabai Nair Hospital is a Public Hospital in every sense of the term. The students of the National Medical College, which trains students for the L.C.P.S. Diploma, get their practical training in this Hospital which in this respect stands on a level with the Jamsetji Jeejeebhoy and K. E. M. Hospitals. While St. George's Hospitals charges fees to the patients Yamunabai Nair Hospital gives free medical aid to poor suffering humanity. This Hospital at present maintains 73 beds. Eminent surgeons and physicians give their services in this Hospital without remuneration and the Zander Orthopaedic Institute have provided full facilities for the free electrical and radiological treatment for the inpatient. Thus this Hospital is able to maintain a high standard of efficiency without a high standard of expenditure. Such a hospital has the first claim on the voluntary contributions made by the charitable public of Bombay through the channel of a Fete conducted in the name of OUR Hospital. For many of us citizens of Bombay Yamunabai Nair Hospital is pre-eminently OUR Hospital whose claim ought to receive due consideration when the Fete collections will be distributed.—Yours, etc.,

"The Art Of Hanging"

To The Editor of "The Chronicle"

Sir,—Bombay Art Society's Art Exhibition in the Town Hall this year has more variety than what one may expect from the hand of artists only. There is every reason to suspect that the claims of art may have been elbowed aside to make room for those of variety. This credit goes of course to the Hanging Committee.

This year's award of prizes too, is of such peculiar nature, that if these prize-winners represent the highest level of art attained in Bombay, then, it must be said with regret that it has sunken to a deplorable level. At least that seemed to be the impression that the visitors carried home after going round.

I have, however, reason to suspect that this deterioration of art is only apparent and is chiefly due to a wrong choice of works selected for exhibition. It will not be out of place to point out here a few instances of such glaring mistakes of selection, Nos. 440, 466, 475, 385, 481 which last two by the way, are winners of prize, among a host of others can be cited as instances in point. They were distinctly worse than some of the rejected pictures that were being removed from the hall. One certainly feels that this kind of choice leaves much to be desired.

It would be unfair not to air here a few grievances in the general management of the exhibition. The grouping together in class III of water-colours and pictures in Oriental style is quite unjustifiable, especially when the Society offers a special prize for works in Oriental style. Is it the idea of the committee that the medium of water-colours and the Oriental style go hand in hand? How otherwise can we understand the fact that most of the prizes offered for Class III happen to be awarded to pictures done in Oriental style. Secondly, the pictures that are selected are mostly of a low order; and what few really artistic pictures happen to be selected among them, are hung in such a way and in such a place as to spoil their effect completely. This is really a most important subject, and no care and attention devoted to a proper hanging is too great. No. 444 and 423 are instances of really fine compositions set in the background by such hanging.

And all this cannot be explained away by taking one's stand on the principle of 'variety in taste.' The committee is honorary and all honour to them. They have got their difficulties and yet it cannot but be said that the present condition leaves much to be desired. The work of the committee is not over by simply selecting some of the many pictures sent by the artists and holding an exhibition. The noble cause of urging on the arts and creating a higher general taste among the public cannot be achieved by holding the exhibitions in such a cursory way. The appreciators of art are looking up to the Bombay Art Society to keep high level of art in this side of India.—Yours etc.,

Mr. Kambli And Non-Brahmin Youths

To The Editor of "The Chronicle"

Sir,—I was surprised to read from the columns of your paper dated the 5th instant the belated explanation of Mr. G. V. Mokashi, the Secretary of the N. B. Youth Conference. I was also a worker with Mr. Mokashi and it is my duty, therefore, to acquaint the public with the real facts. The Conference did pass certain resolutions and expressed its no-confidence in Mr. Kambli and did disapprove of the work of the Non-Brahmin M.L.C.'s. Mr. Mokashi will do well to read the resolutions over again.—Yours, etc.,

G. A. MINDHE PATIL.

Doctors In Municipal Service

To The Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—You will be rendering a great service to the medical graduates by publishing the following in your popular paper.

Every M.B.B.S. or L.M. & S., I learn, working in the Health Department, Bombay Municipality, is compelled to pass Sanitary Inspector's Examination, and he has to submit reluctantly for fear of losing his job.

Sanitary Inspector's examination is a course of six months open to any student of ordinary English education wherein certificates are granted, by the Bombay Municipality to succeessful students. Frankly speaking, this course is meant for non-medical men or laymen who are totally ignorant of the principles of health and sanitation. Yet one will be surprised to learn that medical graduates are compelled to undergo the same farce.

One is at a loss to understand how, in the opinion of the Health Officer, a qualified Doctor (who has studied hard for several years) knows nothing of sanitation and hygiene, whereas an ordinary layman, no sooner he obtains S I E Certificate, becomes at it were by a miracle, an expert in that line.

It Must Pay The Most It Can

OUR READERS' DUTY TO BIHAR

On Monday only Rs. 2,900 was subscribed to the Relief Fund started by the "Chronicle," the "Samachar" and the "Sentinel." This, we consider, very disappointing. Behar's need is great and urgent and Bombay must maintain its reputation by paying the most it can and as soon as it can. Our readers must, at least, subscribe two lakhs.

Bihar needs 15 crores for the work of relief and reconstruction. For temporary relief alone a crore is required. But so far only 15 lakhs have been subscribed. This response is poor and unworthy of a great country like ours.

All cheques sent to the "Chronicle" should be drawn in the name of the "Chronicle" Earthquake Relief Fund.

In this humanitarian work all service counts. The rupee of a poor man is as welcome as a thousand rupees of a rich man. We, therefore, appeal to heads of offices and firms to collect subscriptions from their employees and send the amounts to us to be forwarded to Babu Rajendraprasad.

We publish below the list of contributions received on Saturday:——

In And Around Bombay

(From Our Staff Correspondents).

An Insult?

Those who still have illusions about English sportsmanship will now have considerably revised their views of a life time at the reported amazing attitude of "England's greatest sportsman", D. R. Jardine. One wonders what explanation he has to offer in justification of questioning an umpire's decision when he happens to be of the standing of Frank Tarrant. In cricket experience Frank Tarrant stands shoulder high above Jardine and the mere fact that the M. C. C. met their Waterloo in Benares should not have been made the ground for disposing of a very capable umpire in such a light-hearted manner. It may be mentioned that in the first test played in Bombay the Indian team lost seven good wickets all due to l. b. w. decisions, but Capt. Naidu did not raise any objection nor would he ever have dreamt of doing so.

The feeling is tense in sporting circles of Bombay that Jardine was absolutely unjustified in offering what is regarded as a deliberate insult to an umpire.

The Second Enlosure

The move legally to abolish the second enclosure of the Bombay race course is a very laudable one It is understood that Mr Syed Munawar will move a resolution at the next session of the Bombay Legislative Council, asking for the abolition of the second enclosure of the Bombay race course because a very large number of people, mostly from the poorer classes, have been flocking to the course, especially since the reduction of the entrance fee from Rs. 2-8-0 to Rs. 1-4-0. There are several arguments put forward against this move, some of them being that those, who do want to gamble would gamble anywhere,—outside in the bucket-shops, on New York cotton futures, or anything else. These days the spirit of speculation has been on the increase among the poor, specially because they want to earn somehow. All these arguments hold good only so long as this kind of gambling is allowed to go on. But once the City Police are determined to put a stop to it, the evil will stop. It would not be out of place here, to mention that some Councillors of the Burma Legislative Council have tabled a resolution for the complete abolition of racing in Burma.

On Restaurants

Restaurants in Bombay are vying with one another in the matter of providing comforts to their patrons. The Fort area has scored one better over its rivals in other parts of the city. The naming of hotels after Viceroys and Governors seems to be no more the fashion. A new school of restaurants has sprung up and we have now what are called cosmopolitan restaurants.

One such restaurant in Fort prides itself on providing its customers a "wash and brush up". But it must be that this innovation is taken advantage of more by the waiters than the patrons. The other day the present writer saw a queue of customers waiting near the wash-stand, while a waiter was busily engaged in a vigorous scrubbing and another had taken possesion of the brush and comb and was giving finishing touches to his toilet. It comes rather as a rude shock to the customer that the waiter should thus anticipate his move every time he walks to the wash basin and mirror.

and sale. Protection does not discriminate between Bombay and the other centres. It equally benefits all. The result is that Bombay's position "vis-a-vis" Ahmedabad and other centres remains the same, or perhaps becomes worse in that protection enables the other centres to increase the quantity of their production as well as to improve its quality by purchasing machinery of a better type. Let us suppose that the advantages possessed by Ahmedabad and other centres are represented by X. That X is a special factor while protection will always be a common factor.

IS PROTECTION DESERVED?

Thus it is clear that Bombay requires special protection or assistance that will not be shared by the mofussil centres. Can the Bombay mill-owners ask for such special protection or assistance? They cannot unless they are able to prove that they have done everything possible to bring the industry up to the level of efficiency and organisation of the same industry in Ahmedabad and that the disadvantages they suffer from are due to the geographical position, that is, due to the fact of their mills being located in a city like Bombay.

At present it would be impossible for the Bombay mill-owners to substantiate their claim to special protection. It has been unmistakably pointed out by those who are conversant with facts relating to the ways of the Bombay mill-owners and those of the mill-owners in Ahmedabad, that the handicaps which prevent the former from successfully competing with the latter are very heavy and almost all of them can be removed provided the Bombay mill-owners have the will to do it. The managing agency system that prevails in Bombay together with the consequent mismanagement in not a few mills is responsible for a number of evils. The Bombay mill-owners who are wedded to the system and who have vested interests in it claim for it certain advantages the most important of which is that it enables the mills easily to raise working capital. The Ahmedabad mill-owners have not, however, found it difficult to raise working capital for their industry. They can obtain deposits from private persons and have to pay only 4 or 4-1|2 per cent. interest on them. I do not know why it should not be possible for the Bombay mill-owners to secure working capital in that way in these days when openings for profitable and safe investment are very few, if they are able to secure the confidence of the public. At Ahmedabad, the cotton required for mills is purchased at lower rates, the sales of piece-goods are organised in a better way and more attention is paid to public taste and requirements in manufacturing the cloth. Those who are responsible for organisation and management have no other irons in the fire and are in closer touch with the working of the mills and the shareholders' interests are duly respected and guarded. Naturally Ahmedabad is able to beat Bombay in open competition.

SIGNIFICANT FACTS.

If there be any natural disadvantages from which the mill industry in Bombay has to suffer they cannot be said to be very serious. This is proved by certain unimpeachable facts. The amount of loss varies from group to group and from mill to mill. Last year a few mills in Bombay were able to show profits. These mills were mostly owned by individuals and not by joint stock companies. One mill managed and substantially owned by a capitalist from Ahmedabad was able to show profit to the tune of twelve lakhs of rupees. Even to-day a few mills are profitably working.

It would be an exaggeration of facts, nay, it would be far from the truth, to say that the mills which have been either closed or have been continuously working at a loss during the last five years, owe their fall or tottering position to the trade depression. Two important groups have gone into liquidation and it was not trade depression that was really responsible for the closure of those mills. Another big group of mills provides a conundrum. These mills are not only now working at a loss, but even when all other mills in Bombay were working more or less profitably they showed loss every year. During the last ten years or so the shares of these mills have ever been below par, the present market value of each share being only a small fraction of the original amount. How these mills have been able to carry on so long and have avoided liquidation is difficult to understand. Wonderful vitality indeed!

The fact is that with the present methods most of the Bombay mills can be worked profitably only during a boom period, which is a rare phenomenon and cannot be expected at short intervals.

FREE REMITTANCES FOR BIHAR RELIEF

Will Imperial Bank Give Necessary Facilities To Non-Official Agencies?

(From Our Special Correspondent)

NEW DELHI. Feb. 12.

I understand after all the Imperial Bank authorities have consented to transmit the remittances meant for Bihar Relief. A few days ago Mr. Gaya Prasad Singh received the following telegram from Rangoon:

"Burma Samachar Earthquake Relief refused remittance by the Imperial Bank to Pt. Jawaharlal Nehru free of charge. The Viceroy's fund was sent free. Why is this discrimination? Plase question Government in the Assembly.'

On receipt of this telegram Mr. G. P. Singh wrote a lengthy letter to Sir G. Schuster explaining the difficulties experienced by non-official agencies. He also subsequently discussed with him for a long time on the subject.

I now understand that Sir G. Schuster has taken up the matter with Sir Osborne Smith Managing Governor of the Imperial Bank whose reply is anticipated shortly. It can well be said that the Imperial Bank authorities wou'd not object to give the necessary facilities asked for.

MEMON SOCIETY'S WORK IN BEHAR

Relief Committee's Appeal For Funds

The Secretary of the Memon Merchants' Association, Bombay, writes:—

The Calcutta Memon Relief Society has collected a sum of Rs. 30,000 to help the poor victims of the earthquake in Bihar.

It has already despatched a batch of 18 volunteers under Mr. A.S. Naviwala to the afflicted areas and opened a relief centre in Muzaffarpur. The volunteers are doing yeoman's work in the district and rendering every possible help to the sufferers irrespective of caste and creed.

The Society is erecting small huts for the homeless. Some 500 huts have so far been erected, and the work is continuing in full force. It is also clearing the wells of sands and ashes that the people may get clean and pure water to drink.

It has set up a few stalls of rice, grain and every-day necessities where the goods are sold at 25 to 50 per cent. less the cost-price.

The Society is working in full co-operation with the Central Relief Committee.

It has also despatched a batch of volunteers to Darbhanga District and its men are regularly working in Samastipur, Motihari and the adjoining places.

APPEAL FOR FUNDS.

From reports received from Mr. Nawiwala and others, it is quite obvious that the number of sufferers is limitless and the help we are rendering is but a drop in the ocean.

The public are requested to send all their contributions to the treasurers, Messrs. Hoosen Kassam Dad, 26, Amratola Street, Calcutta.

Surat Collects Over Rs. 24,000

The Secretary of the Surat 'quake Relief Committee writes:—

The Surat 'Quake Relief Committee has sent a further sum of Rs. 3,000 to Rajenbabu on Sunday. The Buranpuri Bhagol Kapad Mahajan and the Spinning and Weaving Mills of Sheth Mafatbhai have sent eight bales of cloth through the committee.

The local gold thread merchants have contributed Rs. 6,000 towards the fund.

Contributions have also been received from several villages of the district.

DIRECT REMITTANCES

Besides, the following sums have been sent to Babu Rajendra Prasad's committee directly.

Bulsar Rs. 3,200; Seth Venilal (Rander) Rs. 201; Aucheli (Jalalpore) Rs. 100; Kharoli Rs. 50; Villages around Navsari Rs. 101 Total Rs. 4,652.

Thus the total contributions of the Surat District to the Bihar Central Relief Committee amounts to Rs. 24,882.

BIHAR HOMELESS AND GOVT.'S DUTY

Mr. M. M. Shah of the Satsang Mandal Nadiad in the course of a statement making certain constructive suggestions for housing the homeless in Bihar says:

"Majority of the people always remain satisfied with their abodes (Huts) of bamboos, rafters, and straw throughout the year and as such Government of India should now rather be moved or be good enough to at least arrange for prompt issue of necessary instructions to all Government Forest Depots to supply free of cost or if not possible at a very low nominal rate their respective forest produce of bamboos, rafters hay, etc., direct to the earthquake striken area Centres."

At Dinapur

DINAPUR, Feb. 12.

Due to last night's shock some further damage was caused to buildings at Dinapur.—United Press.

Hindustani Merchants Collect Over Rs. 17,000

The Secretary of the Bihar Relief Committee of the Hindustani Native Merchants' Association, Bombay, writes:—

The total amount subscribed to the Hindustani Native Merchants' Association's Bihar Relief Fund upto February 11 is Rs. 17,734, as follows:—

TREMORS IN BIHAR AGAIN

Muzaffarpur Experiences Smart Shaking

PATNA, Feb. 12.

Frequent tremors for at least more than once every day are being reported since yesterday from almost all parts of Bihar.

In most cases the duration of the tremor is short-lived and intensity is negligible. But last night at about 8-20 the tremor was rather sharp and terrifying at Patna.

Reports received so far from Chapra, Hajipur, Dinapur and Muzaffarpur indicate in those places also tremors of appreciable intensity were felt last night.—United Press.

FUTURE OF BERAR

Aney Will Preside Over All-Parties Meeting

AKOLA, Feb. 12.

Mr. M. S. Aney has consented to preside over the Berar All-Parties' Conference to be held at Akola on February 24.

The conference will discuss the future status of Berar in the light of His Excellency the Viceroy's recent announcement at Hyderabad.—A. P.

LONDON DONATIONS FOR BIHAR

LONDON, Feb. 12.

Donations of approximately 2500 sterling is announced in the first list of subscriptions received by the High Commissioner for the Indian Earthquake Relief fund. The list is chiefly composed of personal donations, but includes a number of contributions by religious and social and other bodies headed by the British Red Cross Society with 500 sterling and the British Cotton Growing Association 100 guineas. Other gifts include those of Sir Samuel Hoare and Bhupen Mitra, each 25 sterling, the staff of the India House and India Store Department 91 and M. R. A. Butler, 20 Sterling.—Reuter.

TEMPLE ENTRY BILL

however large, from effecting any reform they may have resolved upon in extending the right of access to the temple to other people. The reforming majority can be restrained by an injunction from the Court from carrying out their resolve, or if it is already carried out, they can be penalised by exaction of damages for breach of an existing custom.

Thus the present law constitutes an interference with the free exercise of the Hindu religion by the Touchables or 'caste Hindus' themselves.

For freedom of religion is the freedom to change religious customs as well as to maintain them as they are.

A law that interferes with this right is clearly an interference with religion.

The Temple Entry Bill is meant to remove this interference and secure freedom of religion for the Touchable or non-Harijan Hindus to practise their religion as they wish in the matter of the use of their temples.

It is thus meant to remove a disability, not of the Untouchables, but of the Touchables.

(4) Since it is the present law that interferes with our religion and the Bill is meant to stop the interference, those who call the Bill an interference with our religion are like the thief crying 'Stop thief!'

It is certainly below the dignity of a qualified doctor, and a mere waste of time and energy to obtain such an ordinary certificate meant for laymen alone.

Nobody can deny the fact that an M.B.B.S. can carry out the duties of a medical inspector far more efficiently and satisfactorily than an ordinary layman (yet poor doctors have to work under laymen in the Health Department). In spite of this truth clear as day light one does not see what useful purpose is served by compelling University graduates to pass S.I.E. which is far inferior to M.B.B.S. and L. M. & S. or even to L. C. P. & S.

Will the Corporators inquire into this matter and put an end to this degradation once for all?—Yours, etc.

Ramkrishna Mission's Activities

Record Of Relief Work Done At Muzzafarpur, Sitamarhi And Motihari

(From A Correspondent.)

MUZZAFARPUR, Feb. 10.

The Ramkrishna Mission's earthquake relief work in Bihar is operated through various centres with headquarters at Muzzafarpur. Branch centres have been opened at Sitamarhi, Laheriasarai, Darbhanga, Samastipur, and Motihari.

Monghyr is a separate headquarters of the Mission. At Muzzafarpur up to the 9th instant 253 maunds and 20 seers of rice, 28 maunds and 20 seers of dal and 4 maunds of salt have been distributed to 6,977 families, consisting of 26,319 members. Five maunds of murki have been distributed to 1,600 people. 337 utensils consisting of buckets, pots and plates were distributed to 66 families. Foodstuff, utensils, woollen blankets and clothes were given privately according to the requirements to 125 middle-class respectable families, besides those that made requests. 1,349 blankets including 446 woollen rugs and 808 clothes have been distributed. 269 huts for 1,614 people have been constructed. Thorough inspection is continuing for constructing permanent huts.

MEDICAL AID

House-to-house medical aid was given to 261 cases. 10 wells have been cleared. Work has been undertaken in 4 neighbouring villages.

Activities continue as before. In half the town the work has entirely and independently been undertaken by the Mission.

RELIEF WORK IN VILLAGES

Calcutta Society Opens Three Centers

The Publicity Officer, Muzaffarpur wires under Monday's date:—

The Relief Society of Calcutta is administering relief in town and rural area on an extensive scale. Greater attention is being paid to work in the villages. Three active centres for rural relief are maintained at Hajipur, Minapur and Mampurhari.

A noteworthy fact is that the society has begun digging a canal between Talimpur and Raghopur. This will drain 40,000 acres of land overflooded by water due to the earthquake.

Pandit Hirday Nath Kunzru of the Servants of India Society, Allahabad arrived here this morning to study the situation and how relief is given by various agencies.

REFRESH YOUR SCALP with LISTERINE

For a stimulating, invigorating hair and scalp treatment, nothing equals Listerine. Apply it liberally, full strength. Rub it in well with the finger tips. Massage the hair roots thoroughly . . . then see how clean and refreshed your head feels. Of course your hair looks better . . . smoother and more lustrous. It's a natural lustre, too . . . not due to oils or greases but to a healthy, vigorous scalp. Try the exhilarating Listerine treatment once and you'll want to make it a daily habit.

Indian Women Have Definite Place In Country's Future, Remarks Begum Shah Nawaz

DELHI, (By Mail).

"India's political emancipation will come only when her womenfolk are given opportunities to work hand in hand with men in the reconstruction of the social fabric and are allowed to have their say in matters political," was the prediction made by Captain Cazalet, Conservative M.P., when he addressed this evening a meeting under the auspices of the Delhi Women's League in the Saraswati Bhawan Hall on "Women's Place in Politics." Begum Shah Nawaz presided. India would never have a real democratic constitution if this condition remained unfulfilled, he proceeded. Though they were still suffering under certain handicaps women in England had attained emancipation to a very large extent and it was impossible, he said, to exaggerate the part which they have played in politics. No candidate offering himself for election could afford to disregard them, and the enormous amount of interest they took in politics could be gauged by the fact that three-forrth of the election work was done by female voters.

Recognising the formidable opposition which women in India would have to encounter in securing their proper place in the affairs of the country, he refused to believe that the younger generation of the fair sex of this country would allow itself to be relegated to a position of inferiority as hitherto. "It is my sincere conviction," he concluded, "that Indian woman has an equally important part to play in the affairs of her country and the world as within the four walls of her house."

"CONSERVATIVE."

Begum Shah Nawaz, introducing the speaker earlier in the function, jocularly remarked that Indian women were very much apprehensive of the word "Conservative," as it meant those who believed in keeping under lock and key. She agreed with the speaker that women had a sphere of their own to which they should confine their activities, as far as possible, when they entered politics.

She was proud to say that the women movement had been international in its outlook and referred in this connection to the valuable help which she had received from her English sisters in advocating the cause of female India at the Round Table Conferences. She was one of those, she said, who believed in constitutional methods and evolutionary processes. When England was extending her helping hand, an Eastern country like India should also extend the olive branch and co-operate with her in working the salvation of humanity, she concluded.

PROMOTION OF SHIPPING KNOWLEDGE

Activities Of Society For 7 Months Of 1933

The Society for the Promotion of Shipping Knowledge, in the course of its annual report for the year 1933, states:

During its seven month's short regime, it has been able to revive and sustain the interest of the members in shipping knowledge by giving the opportunities for practical education. The following is a brief resume of the Society's activities:—

A lecture on 'Ships and Shipping in the late eighties' was delivered by Capt. Richards of Messrs. Ericson and Richards, Ship and Marine Surveyors. It was attended by several members of the Society.

During the last seven months 39 new members were enrolled, and the present number of members is 126. This shows that there is a growing interest in the activities of the Society by those employed in Shipping and allied industries. Several inquiries regarding membership have also been received from the general public.

Consequently, it is proposed that by amending rule No. 5, membership may be thrown open to public at large.

The statement of accounts for the year ended 31st December 1933 shows that the income of the Society comprised of subscriptions amounting to Rs. 46 and interest amounting to Rs. 7-7-0. The total receipts including the old balance of Rs. 258-4-3 amounted to Rs. 311-11-3. Deducting the expense of postage Rs. 0-5-6 there remains now a balance of Rs. 311-5-9.

The Budget session of the Central Provinces Legislative Council commences on February 26, and lasts till March 9th. The Budget for 1934-35 will be presented on the first day of the session.—AP

GLOBE-TROTTER'S ADVENTURE

Muslim Youth Trudges 7,435 Miles In 17 Months

AJMER, (By Mail.)

"The world is a great book of which those who never stir out from home read only a page"—His Highness the Maharaja of Jhalawar.

"The world is a poor book of half truth; and your own self is a university; study that"—His Highness of Khilchipur.

These two remarks entered one below the other in the book of the 19-year old Muslim globe-trotter. T. M. Kasim by two Ruling Princes of India must have to some extent embarrassed the young globe-trotter.

Kasim, a member of the Y.M.C.A, Calcutta, who claims to be the first Muslim to undertake at such a tender age the hazardous adventure of walking round the world, without any firearms and not even a kit, has now reached Ahmedabad having so far covered 7,435 miles on foot since he left Calcutta on September 18, 1932.

He will proceed to South India and Ceylon, and expects to reach Central Europe after visiting Quetta, Afghanistan, Persia, Arabia, Egypt, Turkey and Rumania. He will then proceed to London and, if circumstances permit, may go to America. He expects that he will be able to cover 52,000 miles, and visit 22 countries and three continents in the course of four years.—AP.

GERMAN GIRL TURNS HINDU

Quiet Ceremony Takes Place At Bombay Arya Samaj

A German girl aged 22, who arrived in Bombay recently, embraced Hinduism on Sunday according to the Arya Samaj rites to the initiation took place without much fuss in the premises of the Arya Samaj at Kakadwadi, Girgaum, in the afternoon before a few followers of the Samaj were present.

Miss Hieldgeard Tchelenjak, which is her German name dressed in European costume, walked right into the premises of the Arya Samaj in the morning and told the priest in charge that she was wanted to be converted to Arya Samaj faith immediately. She was asked to come back later in the afternoon for the ceremony.

Miss Tschelenjek accordingly came in the afternoon, about 2-30, this time putting on a red saree in Bengalee Hindu style. After a brief conversation with Pandit L. J. Ogle, the Arya Samaj priest, she got ready for the ceremony. Pandit Ogle performed it after explaining to her the deep significance of the faith, got her to pronounce the usual oaths.

She renounced her former name and accepted the name of Shantadevi. After the commission she took the blessings of the few Arya Samajis and elders present at the hall and walked away as unobtrusively as she entered.

She gave her present address as Fort, Bombay.

She speaks English fairly fluently, and understands the language very well.

PROTEST AGAINST ARTIFICIAL SILK DUTY

The Bombay Yarn, Copper and Brass Native Merchants' Association have dispatched the following telegram to Sir Joseph Bhore, Commerce Member:

"My committee strongly protests against proposed increase in duty to 25 per cent. on artificial silk yarns. Increase entirely unwarranted and severe handicap to handloom weavers who consume nearly ninety-five per cent. of imports and who are already badly hit by cheap imported Japanese artificial silk cloths. Strongly contend artificial silk yarn in no way interferes with sericulture industry."

LOW PRESSURE OVER PUNJAB

ALLEGED TORTURE BY POLICE

Convictions Maintained But Sentences Reduced

LAHORE, Feb. 11.

Mr. Justice Rangilal of the Lahore High Court pronounced orders in the appeal of Kesari Chand Police Sub-Inspector, Des Raj, Head Constable and Hayat Mohamad constable of Gujranwala police who had been sentenced to 2 years, 7 years and 7 years rigorous imprisonment respectively on the charge of torture of a Sikh.

His Lordship maintained the convictions but reduced their sentences.

ALLEGED TORTURE.

According to the prosecution, on the night of June 30 last, a burglary yas committed in a village in the District of Gujranwala. Cash and valuable property amounting to thousands of rupees were stolen. Following a report, being lodged at the Wazirabad polic station on the 2nd July, Ghulam Mohamad, a foot constable, was sent by Desraj Head constable to the village to get the people present for police investigation Desraj, accompanied by Hayat Mohd and Sardar Khan foot constables, reached the village. Four Sikhs, who were suspected of the crime were sent for and it is alleged, were beaten by the police with shoes, and lathis and also kicked to extort confessions from them.

As the investigation proceeded the suspects were, it is alleged, subjected to further torture including the application of live charcoal to the body of one of them. Further allegations of torture were also made.

MOTHER'S NARRATION.

The mother of Shersingh, one of the suspects, went to the Senior Superintendent of Police and the Deputy Commissioner and narrated the whole tale there. The Deputy Commissioner ordered an enquiry; and a "prima facie" case against six men including Mian Kesri Chand, Inspector of Police, Desraj, Head constable Hayat Mohd and Gulam Mohd, constables, Hakimkhan Lambardar and Alladad Pattidar, was established.

SERIOUS CHARGES.

These six persons were challaned on the charge of torture taking bribes, outraging the modesty of a woman and wrongful confinement.

The District Magistrate of Gujranwala held Kesri Chand, Sub-Inspector, Desraj, Head Constable and Hayat Mohd constable, guilty and convicted them on different charges. The Sub-Inspector was sentenced to two years' rigorous imprisonment and Desraj and Hayat Mohamad to seven years' imprisonment each.

The other three persons were acquitted.—United Press.

BENGALI LINOTYPE

Latest Innovation In Type-Setting

CALCUTTA, (By Mail).

The latest invention in type-setting is the key board scheme for Bengali linotype made by Mr. S. C. Majumdar, Managing Director of the "Ananda Bazar Patrika" and Mr. Rajshekhar Bose, formerly manager, Bengal Chemical and Phamaceutical Works. The scheme, which is the result of twenty years' hard and strenuous efforts on the part of Mr. Majumdar, has been accepted by the Linotype Machinery, Limited, of England.

For the purpose of successful working of the scheme nearly 600 letters of the Bengali script have been reduced to 124 on the key board, in addition to about 50 letters in the side cases, including signs. The details are being worked out in collaboration with Mr. A. J. May, Manager of the Linotype Company, Calcutta, and Mr. H. Govil of the Mergenthaler Linotype Company, of New York. The matrices are being prepared by the New York branch of the Linotype Company and the entire machinery is expected to be complete for use by the end of the current year.

It is claimed that this will revolutionise printing in Bengali and will materially help and facilitate the work of daily newspaper concerns.—A. P.

IN AID OF MATUNGA F. R. & LIBRARY

A musical performance was given by Prof. Narayanrao Vyas at the Napoo Hall, Matunga, on Sunday night, in aid of the Lokamanya Free Reading Roof and Library. Dr. M. C. Javle, Mayor of Bombay, presided.

This Free Reading Room and Library owed its origin to the zeal of a few public-spirited residents of Matunga, and was formally opened on the last "Dasserah Day," in a rented building on the Lady Hardinge Road, from where it was shifted to its present quarters at Motiwadi, Lady Jamshedji Road. Its original name of "Nagari Pracharini" was changed to that of "Lokamanya," after the name of that great patriot and lover of art and literature, and ever since, it is stated, the membership of the Institution had continued to increase. The Reading Room and Library are open to people of all denominations, free of charge.

The president, thanking the Managing Committee for the invitation, hoped that the institution would survive for a long time, that the magnatic name of that great patriot will have its effect both on the Managing Committee as well as on the public. He said that the library was the best place where people would gather together, and exchange views, and would know what is going on both in and out of India, and appealed to the audience to make generous contributions.

Nervous Irritability
High Blood-Pressure

by taking

KALZANA

Keep your arteries young—every man and woman, especially those over 35, should remember this advice. For such complaints as high blood-pressure, nervous irritability, easily induced fatigue and lessening resistance may affect your arteries and heart.

Overcome these signs of advancing age—keep your blood pressure normal and enjoy undisturbed health by taking Kalzana. It contains the vital mineral salts needed to give new power of resistance to your body—and what is of vital importance: Kalzana also reduces high blood-pressure. After taking Kalzana your blood-pressure soon becomes normal again and any disturbing symptoms of advancing age quickly disappear. Keep strong and healthy throughout middle age. Start your course of Kalzana to-day.

Obtainable at all Chemists and Bazars.

OFFICIAL CHANGES IN LAHORE

A few days back Mr. Miles Irving, Financial Commissioner had decided to go on leave but now it is learnt he has cancelled the passage.

It is reported that he will succeed Sir Sikandar Hayat as Revenue Member, Mr. Latifi will officiate in Mr. Miles Irving's place as Financial Commissioner.

There are some other changes expected in Lahore. When Mr. Puckle goes on leave on return of Mr. Garbett, it is expected that Mr. Askwith, Deputy Commissioner, Lahore, will be made Finance Secretary and he may be succeeded either by Mr. McFaquhar from Amritsar or Mr. Penny from Gurdaspur.—United Press.

BOMBAY BROADCASTING

Wave-length Of Station Changed To 350.9 Metres

NEW DELHI, Feb. 10.

Owing to the change of wave-lengths of Broadcasting station in Europe which took place on the 15th of January, serious interference has been caused to reception of the Bombay Broadcasting station. In order to avoid this interference the wave-length of the Bombay Broadcasting station has now been changed to 350.9 metres (835 kilocycles per second). This will result in a small change in the adjustment of receivers but there should now be no signs of the heterodyne whistle which has rerently been experienced on all receivers, and there should be no interference at all except on receivers with exceptionally broad tuning.—United Press.

SHARP ADVANCE IN BRAZILIAN FUNDING BONDS

MARKETS DULL ON LABOUR DISTURBANCES IN FRANCE AND AUSTRIA

Cocoa Steady But Rubber Easy

(SPECIAL CABLE).

LONDON, Febry. 12.

On the Stock Exchange, Home Rails were good, especially Southern preferred ordinary, which jumped from 70 to 72-3|4 on the announcement of 3 per cent. dividend, compared with 1 per cent. in the previous year. Otherwise apart from a renewed sharp advance in the Brazilian 20 and 40 years Funding Bonds, markets mostly were dull and uninteresting in view of the American holiday and Labour disturbances in France and Austria.

The Commodity Markets were also somewhat restrained by the American holiday. Nevertheless, cocoa continued good with large business, but rubber eased under the influence of increased stocks in the East.

BISHOP ON CULTURE

LAHORE, Feb. 10.

The inauguration ceremony of the Society for the Promotion of Art and culture was performed this evening amidst scenes of enthusiasm by the Lord Bishop of Lahore at the Y. M. C. A. Hall in the presence of a distinguished gathering.

The Hon'ble Captain Sir Sikandar Hayat Khan, President of the Society welcomed the Lord Bishop and those present and explained the aims and objects of the Society which were to promote the cause of Art and culture in the province.

In course of his address the Lord Bishop said:—"Culture is really the soul of man in action: the culture of a people is its soul expressing itself in taste and sensibilities, in ideas and ideals, in art and literature, in its societies and institutions.

"Viewed from this angle culture has much in common with tradition. Tradition is in fact an ineradicable part of true culture. The future of the culture of a people springs fundamentally from its long distant past, the present is the link of continuity which binds them both together."—United Press.

BILLS BEFORE U. P. COUNCIL

Agriculturists' Relief Bill To Come Up Again

LUCKNOW, Feb. 12.

Conversations with some members of the U. P. Council, who are here in connection with the sittings of the Select Committee indicate that the next session of the Council will have to dispose of a heavy agenda.

It is likely that the Agriculturists' Relief Bill, which was passed during the last session, may be reconsidered in this session. The Bill has not so far received the assent of the Governor, and the Finance Member had already visualised such a possibility when the Bill was under discussion. He had at that time made it clear that it would be necessary "for us to re-examine the Bill as a whole to see if there are any gaps in it or any provisions which, read with the rest of the Bill are undesirable."

Among other Bills that are likely to come up for discussion are the Usurious Loans Amendment Bill, Regulation of Sales Bill and the Encumbered Estates Bill.

As these measures are, it is said, calculated to support the interests of landlords, the Government may bring forward a Bill which will give relief to the peasant proprietors in the province. Lastly, it is expected that a Bill to regulate taqavi loans may be introduced in the coming session.—A. P.

Physical Feats By K.G.E.H. School Students

Under the presidentship of Seth Velji Lukhamsi Napoo, and before a crowded house, the physical culture demonstration of the King George English High School was held at Dadar on Sunday last.

The report on the physical culture department of the School was read by its Headmaster, Mr. S. V. Nabar, in which it was stated that the physical condition of the boys were, though not very disappointing, yet far from satisfactory, and it was held by the medical examiners that this was mainly due to undernourishment and lack of regular physical exercise on the part of the boys.

The physical feats performed by the students of the school were much admired.

After the distribution of prizes, the president, exhorted the boys to emulate the example of those who had won the prizes and try, not only to equal, but also to excel them.

Armed Soldiers Rushed To Dundalk

FREE FIGHT AT UNITED IRELAND PARTY MEETING

Many Persons Injured In Baton Charges Made By Civic Guards

LONDON, Feb. 11.

There were wild scenes at the United Ireland Party meeting at Dundalk in the afternoon where Mr. Cosgrave was chief speaker

Fighting between the supporters and opponents of the party led to repeated baton charges by the Civic Guards. Many were injured.

In response to a telephone message from the Civic Guards two tenders filled with armed soldiers rushed to Dundalk from Dublin, but order was restored before their arrival.—Reuter's Special Service.

BLUE-SHIRTS MOBBED

(SPECIAL CABLE)

LONDON, Feb. 12.

Twenty were injured in rioting at Drogheda when the Blueshirts marched to the station to entrain for Dundalk (in connection with a Cosgrave meeting mentioned earlier.) Large crowd emerged from the side streets The Police unsuccessfully made a baton-charge and were forced to summon troops who rushed in their lorries from Dublin.

The mob stoned the troops who replied ineffectively with teargas, and bombs. The troops then fired blank shorts over the crowd and order was restored. Blueshirts who had not participated were escorted to the station by the troops.

A further trouble on the Blueshirts' return which necessitated baton-charges and teargas bombs. All is now quiet.

WILL SCHUSTER BE OVERRULED BY HOARE?

"Govt. Of India Acts Only As Far As Secretary Of State Allows It To Go" Says Mr. Puri

(From Our Correspondent.)

NEW DELHI, Feb. 12.

Mr. B. R. Puri, M. L. A. in a statement to the press says: "For the last two days a rumour has been persisting in the Lobby that Sir George Schsuter, who was agreeable to having equal import duty and excise duty on kerosene oil has been over ruled by Sir Samuel Hoare. The pity of it is that the Government of India will not disclose that this difference of opinion exists.

"What I am anxious to emphasise is that when recently Mr. B. Das raised the motion of adjournment on the Indo-Japanese Treaty, Sir Joseph Bhore spoke of added importance to that fiscal autonomy convention got through negotiating the Treaty in India, but my contention is that in all these matters the Government of India Acts only to the extent to which it has previously ascertained the Secretary of State would allow it to go.

"The fiscal autonomy convention means that when Government of India agrees with the Indian Legislature the Secretary of State shall not interfere but how are we to know that the Government of India takes an independent view and does take instructions from the Secretary of State before hand.

A JUST CLAIM.

"Here is the most patent example of this. Sir George Schuster sees the pustice of the claim put forward by my frient Mr. S. C. Mitra's resolution. He backs it not merely because the resolution is fair but also it is a legitimate source of revenue of about half a crore annually; but he is over ruled.

"Will he tell the Assembly to give a verdict in favour of or against the attitude of the Government of India and then if the legislature and the Government of India agree, will he take his stand on the fiscal autonomy convention and put the resolution into efect? Will he even let the official votes remain neutral? If he does not do either of these and opposes the resolution, it means that he is carrying out the instructions of London without giving the Assembly a change of backing the Finance Member in his fight for the Indian point of view."

HARTAL BANNED IN KASHMIR

Magistrate Issues Notice On Muslim Shopkeepers

MORE DETAILS ABOUT FIRING

SRINAGAR, Feb. 11.

Further details of firing at Eijbihara show that a mob of Muslims used to collect there from adjacent villages and the so-called dictators, who used to excite them were arrested.

On February 6 a huge mob collected and after mobbing the Police made an attack on the shops of Hindus. At that time Brigadier Edward and Col. Baldev Singh Pathania also reached the spot. The Police ordered the mob to disperse but the mob instead, began to advance.

MOB SURROUNDS POLICE

The small detachment of the Police and military was surrounded by the mob. The Civil authorities showed their inability to control the mob whereupon Brigadier Edward gave considerable time to the mob to disperse but the shower of stones and fire pots did not stop. Brigadier ordered four rounds to be fired. The first two are reported to have been shot in the air and the last two killed three.

A Magistrate proceeded to the spot to hold enquiry.

Nothing untoward happened in Srinagar for the last fews days. Muslims as usual assemble in the Khanqah Mosque but their number is decreasing day by day. Yetterday there were not more than 100 Muslims in the mosque.

APOLOGIES TO GOVT.

Those who have been sentenced to different terms of imprisonment are tendering apologies to the Government. It is understood that 90 per cent of the arrested Muslims have either stated that they were forced to be volunteers or that the processions were banned.

HARTAL BANNED.

The District Magistrate of Kashmir has issued notices to some Muslim shopkeepers under Notification 19 T. directing them not to close their shops for one month from the date of notice for observance of hartal.

Brigadier Edward and Sardar Attar Singh, Governor are very ably controlling the situation.—United Press.

A motor accident resulting in the death of Mr. Wankhede, a depressed class Municipal member of the Akola Municipality occurred on Sunday noon on Akola-Akot road.

DACOITS ATTACK WOMEN FOLK

Gang Decamps With Valuables In Sind Village

HYDERABAD, (Sind), Feb. 12.

Sensation and a sense of insecurity prevails in Tando Thoro, a village on the out-skirts of Hyderabad (Sind). It is stated that in broad daylight, a gang of armed dacoits broke into the houses of the well-to-do Hindu traders and seamlessly assaulted the women-folks and relieved them of their valuables while their husbands were away in the town.

One highwayman is alleged to have forcibly snatched away a nose-ring from the nose of a woman causing great injury. Half a dozen houses were attacked and all property looted.—United Press.

PONDICHERRY TO WELCOME GANDHIJI

Visit To Kripasramam On 17th

PONDICHERRY, Feb. 11.

According to the revised programme, Mahatma Gandhi visits Thiruvennainallur Kripasramam run by Govinda Rao Gurjali, a Congress worker of this district on February 17 from Cuddalore.

A special meeting of the village Panchayat Board of that place was held under the presidency of Mr. Chinnasami Reddiar when an address of welcome to Mahatmaji was voted unanimously.

The merchants of this place are expected to present a separate purse to Gandhiji.—United Press.

Arrest Of Notorious Character

JUBBULPORE, Feb. 10

Laxmi, a notorious character with four previous convictions, has again been arrested by the local police, under Section 379 I.P.C. (theft). The accused, it is alleged, came to Jubbulpore only yesterday and walked into Bhatia's shop in the city, and while the attention of the shop-keeper was diverted, he is said to have concealed a piece of cloth, under his shirt and walked away. Shortly after, the shopkeeper missing the cloth, called a constable on duty nearby, who arrested the accused near the Kamania Gate and recovered the silk piece from his possession—(United Press).

KAPURTHALA AND DR. MOONJE

Appeal To Maharaja Not To Put Restrictions On Interview

KAPURTHALA, Feb. 11.

Hand-written handbills were found pasted on walls, threatening the Chief Minister with death if he did not cease oppressing the Hindus.

The Mahabir Dal and the Hindu Sabha condemned the action of the anonymous author, who tried to disgrace the Hindus.

The Hindus held a meeting under the auspices of the Hindu Sabha, and a resolution was unanimously passed requesting the Maharaja not to put restrictions on the interview with Doctor Moonje and requested the Doctor not to come if the restrictions were enforced.

Dr. Moonje is reaching here before the 15th inst.—United Press.

BUDGET WILL MAKE DISMAL READING

Little Chance Of Taxation Relief, Says "Financial Times"

LONDON, Feb. 12.

It is evident that Sir George Schuster's budget statement on February 27 would not make as agreeable a reading as we wish declares the "Financial Times." The budgetary position sound though is is for moment, holds out little hope of taxation relief.

Trade figures of 1933 make an encouraging reading The big rise in exports of merchandise and the improvement in agricultural prices will ultimately bring an increased purchasing power. How far the latter will result in improved demand for British goods depends on how far the fiscal advantages of Ottawa and the Lees-Mody pacts are followed up with energetic action by British manufacturers and exporters.—Reuter's Special.

GOLD COVER TO BE REDUCED

National Democrats Oppose Govt.'s Proposal

PRAGUE, Feb. 11.

It is understood that the Government proposes to reduce gold cover from the present 30 per cent to 25 per cent, thus reducing the exchange value of the Krone by about 1/6th. The final decision is expected to-morrow. National Democrats representing chiefly the financial industrial circles oppose the Government's proposals and threaten to withdraw their representative, the Minister of Commerce, from the Cabinet.—Reuter.

PICTURESQUE PROCESSIONS

Hindu Devotees Flock To Chowpatty For Holy Bath

Bombay witnessed on Monday morning an endless stream of processions of picturesquely clad Hindu men and women converging at the Chowpaty Foreshore for the purpose of a sea bath in celebration of the Mahashivratri.

Orthodox Hindus attach great significance to this religious observance as it is suppised to be the day when God Shiva slew a particularly wicked demon. They begin the day with a sea bath and end it in fasting and prayers.

The rush of sea bathers was particularly heavy this year and the traffic constables were assisted by ordinary policemen in controlling traffic on the thoroughfares leading to the Chowpaty foreshore.

There were no untoward incidents but vehicular traffic was subject to some delay owing to the heavy rush of devotees.

VILLAGE PANCHAYATS DEMAND MORE POWERS

AKOLA, Feb. 12.

There was a large attendance at the Village Panchayat Conference, held at the Government Agricultural Farm at Sagoda.

Resolutions were adopted by the conference suggesting practical changes in the present law, and demanding more civil powers for village panchayats.

Mr. M. S. Aney moved a resolution, which was supported by Mr. B. G. Khaparde of Amraoti recommending the observance of "Bihar Earthquake Day" in order to show their active sympathy to the sufferer in Bihar. The conference passed the resolution unanimously.—A. P.

HARIJAN ASHRAM TO PAY LAND REVENUE

AHMEDABAD, Feb. 12.

Mahatma Gandhi has permitted the payment of land revenue of his former Ashram at Sabarmathi, now called the Harijan Ashram.

The land revenue of this Ashram was not paid for the last two years and it was recovered by the Government through the attachment of property.

The Ashram was transferred by Gandhiji to the All-India Harijan Association in last July.—A.P.

At a meeting of the Baroda workers on behalf of the Harijan cause, it was decided to invite Mahatma Gandhi to Baroda when he tours Gujarat and Kathiawar.

NO FINAL AGREEMENT YET

Indo-Jap Trade Treaty Likely To Be Delayed

NEW DELHI, Feb. 12.

The final draft of the Indo-Japanese treaty as prepared by the Government of India has been cabled to Tokio for advice, on account of the fact that the Japanese delegation in Delhi is not agreeable to it in every detail.

The reason for the delay in the reply from Tokio is stated to be that the Japanese Government is facing some opposition in the Parliament against the High specific duties imposed by the Indian Tariff Bill. Th Japanese delegation is busy examining the various proposals of the Indian Tariff Bill and it is understood that the delegation made a representation regarding silk mixtures, which they fear would be hard hit by the Textile Protection Bill. At least a fortnights further stay is forecast by the Japanese delegation.—A. P.

HON. MR. WHITTY PROGRESSING WELL

PATNA, Feb. 12.

The condition of the Hon. Mr. J. H. Whitty, Home Member of the Bihar Government, who met with an aeroplane accident while taking off Larbhanga last evening, is reported to be not serious.

After the accident he was removed to the residence of the Manager of Darbhanga Raj, where he is now staying. The Civil Surgeon is attending on him. He is reported to have received considerable shock as a result of the accident and will need complete rest and quiet for some time. It is not known at present when he will be able to return to Patna.

The plane in which he was taking off when he met with the accident was a R.A.F. machine.—A. P.

STRIKE AGAINST WAGE CUT

AHMEDABAD, Feb. 12.

Though the workers of the Nagari Mills who are on strike for the last four days as a protest against wage cut are not members of the local Majur Mahajan, their cause has been taken in hand by the Mahajan.

The Mahajan has written a letter to the mill authorities protesting against the wage cut. The letter regrets that the question of wage cut has not been yet decided by arbitration which should have been done by now.

The Mahajan is giving all help to workers who are pleketting the gates of the mill.—United Press.

TRIBUTES PAID TO DEWAS JUNIOR

Remains Of Maharaja Pass Jubbulpore

JUBBULPORE, Feb. 12.

Numerous members of the local Maharashtra community including Messrs. Kadam, Powar, Sindke, Dr. Belapurkar and others, assembled in the early hours of the morning at the Railway station, Jubbulpore, to pay their respects to the late Maharaja of Lewas (Punior) whose remains passed through by the Bombay-Allahabad Express, escorted by two Sardars of Dewas State.

A condolence meeting under the auspices of Mr. Kadam was also held, where glowing tributes were paid by the Maharastra speakers in memory of the departed ruler of their community.—(United Press.)

JOURNALISTS MOURN MR. IYENGAR'S LOSS

LAHORE, Feb. 12.

At a well attended meeting of journalists held under the auspices of the Journalists' Association, at the office of the "United Press" last evening, resolutions were adopted placing on record the heartfelt grief at the sad and untimely death of Mr. Rangaswami Iyengar, editor of the "Hindu", who had rendered unique service to Indian journalism and cause of the freedom of the Indian Press.

Another resolution protested against the provisions relating to the Press embodied in the Indian States Protection Bill.

The Association further declared that if the Bill was passed, it would shut out legitimate criticism of the administraton of Indian States from the Indian News.
